Choose 2 answers

- A. Circuit breaker is enabled.
- B. Service logging is disabled.
- C. Service mock up call is configured.
- D. Service timeout is set.

Answer: C

Explanation:

For logging practices in a complex LINK cartridge integration, the recommendation is:

Get logger for cartridge-specific category (C): This practice allows for more precise and relevant logging by focusing on the specific cartridge, making troubleshooting more efficient.

Report debug level message for the back-end asynchronous communication: This ensures that all detailed interactions are logged, providing valuable data for diagnosing issues.

Report all errors at error level message: This categorizes all critical issues under error logs, which is essential for quick identification and resolution of problems affecting the system's operations.

This structured logging strategy enhances the ability to monitor and troubleshoot the system effectively, especially in complex integrations where multiple components interact asynchronously.

NEW QUESTION # 51

An Architect is performing an audit of production logs via Log Center and finds some potentially dangerous custom log output.

In which two ways is this log output improper in a production environment? Choose 2 answers

- A. The log information includes the customer's card name as it appears along with the credit card number (PAN), which violates PCI.
- B. Information logs should not be used in a production environment
- C. The log information includes the customer's card CVV (card security code) and expiration date, which violates PCI.
- D. The log information includes the order number and customer's email, which violates PCI.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

In a production environment, logging sensitive customer information such as credit card details (PAN, CVV, expiration date) can lead to severe security and compliance issues, specifically violating PCI DSS (Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard) requirements. The standards strictly prohibit the storage of CVV codes and mandate that any PAN displayed must be masked. Storing such data in logs is not only a risk for data breaches but also non-compliance with these standards can lead to penalties.

* Option A: Including the customer's card name along with the full credit card number in logs is a clear violation of PCI DSS requirements, which stipulate that no more than the last four digits of the card number may be displayed.

* Option B: Logging the card security code (CVV) and expiration date is explicitly prohibited by PCI DSS, which requires that sensitive authentication data, including CVV, must never be stored post-authentication, even if it is encrypted.
