NEW QUESTION # 40

How does ZTNA enhance security when accessing cloud applications?

Response:

- A. By limiting access based on user roles
- B. By encrypting end-to-end communications
- C. By ensuring physical security of data centers
- D. By providing a dedicated hardware path

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 41

A customer needs to implement device posture checks for their remote endpoints while accessing the protected server. They also want the TCP traffic between the remote endpoints and the protected servers to be processed by FortiGate.

In this scenario, which three setups will achieve the above requirements? (Choose three.)

- A. Configure FortiGate as a zero trust network access (ZTNA) access proxy.
- B. Configure private access policies on FortiSASE with ZTNA.
- C. Configure ZTNA servers and ZTNA policies on FortiGate.
- D. Sync ZTNA tags from FortiSASE to FortiGate.
- E. Configure ZTNA tags on FortiGate.

Answer: A,C,E

Explanation:

To meet the requirements of implementing device posture checks for remote endpoints and ensuring that TCP traffic between the endpoints and protected servers is processed by FortiGate, the following three setups are necessary:

Configure ZTNA tags on FortiGate (Option A):

ZTNA (Zero Trust Network Access) tags are used to define access control policies based on the security posture of devices. By configuring ZTNA tags on FortiGate, administrators can enforce granular access controls, ensuring that only compliant devices can access protected resources.

Configure FortiGate as a zero trust network access (ZTNA) access proxy (Option B):

FortiGate can act as a ZTNA access proxy, which allows it to mediate and secure connections between remote endpoints and protected servers. This setup ensures that all TCP traffic passes through FortiGate, enabling inspection and enforcement of security policies.

Configure ZTNA servers and ZTNA policies on FortiGate (Option C):

To enable ZTNA functionality, administrators must define ZTNA servers (the protected resources) and create ZTNA policies on FortiGate. These policies determine how traffic is routed, inspected, and controlled based on device posture and user identity.

NEW QUESTION # 42

Refer to the exhibit. To allow access, which web filter configuration must you change on FortiSASE?

- A. inline cloud access security broker (CASB) headers
- B. URL Filter

- C. FortiGuard category-based filter
- D. content filter

Answer: D

Explanation:

To allow access to the URL blocked due to a banned word ("fight" in this case), you need to change the content filter configuration in FortiSASE.

The content filter checks the content within URLs and blocks access based on specific keywords or phrases. Since the block was triggered by the word "fight," modifying the content filter settings to either remove this word from the banned list or adjust the filtering criteria would allow access to the URL.

NEW QUESTION # 43

When accessing the FortiSASE portal for the first time, an administrator must select data center locations for which three FortiSASE components? (Choose three.)

- A. Points of presence
- B. Endpoint management
- C. Logging
- D. Authentication
- E. SD-WAN hub

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

When accessing the FortiSASE portal for the first time, an administrator must select data center locations for the following FortiSASE components:

Endpoint Management:

The data center location for endpoint management ensures that endpoint data and policies are managed and stored within the chosen geographical region.

Points of Presence (PoPs):

Points of Presence (PoPs) are the locations where FortiSASE services are delivered to users.

Selecting PoP locations ensures optimal performance and connectivity for users based on their geographical distribution.

Logging:

The data center location for logging determines where log data is stored and managed. This is crucial for compliance and regulatory requirements, as well as for efficient log analysis and reporting.
