NEW QUESTION # 36

What type of cooking appliance is required to have its own independent hood and exhaust system?

- A. Medium-duty
- B. Heavy-duty
- C. Light-duty
- D. Extra-heavy-duty

Answer: D

Explanation:

The IMC specifically provides that Type I hoods used over extra-heavy-duty cooking appliances shall not cover other appliances requiring fire-extinguishing protection and shall discharge to an independent exhaust system. Therefore, D is correct.

NEW QUESTION # 37

Solid-fuel cooking equipment:

- A. is permitted to be installed under Type II noncanopy-type hoods.
- B. is permitted to be installed under Type II canopy-type hoods.
- C. shall be vented through a separate hood and exhaust system.
- D. is permitted to be installed under common canopy-type hoods with other cooking equipment.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Solid-fuel cooking equipment requires a separate hood and exhaust system . It is not permitted to share the same hood/exhaust arrangement in the manner suggested by the other choices. This is a standard commercial kitchen exhaust requirement because of the added fire and residue hazards associated with solid-fuel appliances.

Explanation:

For mechanical draft venting systems, unless the appliance is listed for a different clearance, the vent terminal must be located not less than 4 feet below , 4 feet horizontally from , or 1 foot above any door, operable window, or gravity air inlet into a building. Therefore, the required minimum distance below an operable window is 4 feet , so Option B is correct.
