Nutanix Certified Professional - End User Computing (NCP-EUC) 6.10 Exam Sample Questions (Q74-Q79):

NEW QUESTION # 74
An administrator wants to allow SSH access to a Prism Element cluster from selected workstations and disallow password access. How can this be accomplished?

- A. Configure the cluster SSH Whitelist in ncli.

- B. Enable Cluster Lockdown and configure pre-shared RSA keys.
- C. Set cluster IP Restriction State to restricted.
- D. Enable Security Configuration Management Automation (SCMA).

Answer: B

Explanation:
According to the Nutanix Security Guide, Cluster Lockdown is the specific security feature designed to restrict access to the cluster by disabling password-based authentication. When Cluster Lockdown is enabled, the cluster allows access only via SSH keys (RSA keys).
To meet the requirement of allowing access from "selected workstations" while "disallowing password access," the administrator must use Cluster Lockdown. By generating an SSH key pair and configuring the public key within the Cluster Lockdown settings (and removing the "Enable Remote Login with Password" option), the administrator ensures that only workstations possessing the corresponding private key can authenticate. This effectively restricts access to the specific workstations holding the keys and eliminates the risk associated with password-based logins. While IP restrictions (Option B/C) can limit the source addresses, they do not inherently disable password authentication, which is the primary requirement of the question.

NEW QUESTION # 75
An administrator needs to deploy virtual desktops to a Hyper-V Nutanix cluster with writable differencing disks, The administrator will use read only master image with clones that link back to the image.
Which native feature will the cluster use to complete this task?

- A. Shadow Clones
- B. Compression
- C. Oplog
- D. VM Flash Mode

Answer: A

Explanation:
The feature in Nutanix that would be used to complete the task of deploying virtual desktops to a Hyper-V Nutanix cluster with writable differencing disks using a read-only master image with clones that link back to the image is Shadow Clones. Shadow Clones allow for the creation of a snapshot or a clone of a VM that uses the original VM's disks as read-only, and only writes changes to a separate differencing disk. This is useful when deploying virtual desktops as it can reduce storage requirements and improve performance.
Nutanix shadow clones are a feature that enables distributed caching of virtual disks (vDisks) that are in a multi-reader scenario. This can improve performance and reduce network traffic for scenarios such as VDI or private clone boot storms1

NEW QUESTION # 76
A company has deployed Horizon on a Nutanix cluster running the ESXi hypervisor. They are starting the configuration for the deployment of 1000 virtual desktops running Windows 10 in a Linked Clone Desktop Pool.
The company has these requirements:
* Reduced time for initial virtual desktop deployment
* Fast recompose time when updating the pool with patches and new application installs
* Provide a high level of availability to the pool
What should the company enable, that will allow this Nutanix VDI implementation to meet the stated requirements?

- A. View Storage Accelerator
- B. Separate datastores for replicas and clones
- C. VM disk space reclamation
- D. View Composer API for Array Integration

Answer: D

Explanation:
View Composer API for Array Integration (VCAI) is a feature of VMware Horizon that leverages the native cloning abilities in the storage array to offload storage operations within a VMware View environment12
. This feature allows customers to offload the creation of linked clones to the storage array3.

NEW QUESTION # 77
Where should an administrator configure AWS, Azure, and Google accounts within Frame?

- A. Organizations
- B. accounts
- C. Cloud Account
- D. Customers

Answer: C

Explanation:
Frame is a cloud-native desktop-as-a-service platform that delivers virtual apps and desktops from multiple public clouds1. Frame allows administrators to manage various components of their cloud accounts easily from the Frame console1.
A cloud account is a logical grouping of resources that are associated with a specific cloud provider (such as AWS, Azure, or Google) and region1. A cloud account can have multiple virtual networks, master images, and instance types that can be used to create and run virtual apps and desktops1.
To configure AWS, Azure, and Google accounts within Frame, an administrator needs to go to the Cloud Accounts section of the Frame console1. There, the administrator can add new cloud accounts or edit existing ones by providing the required credentials and settings for each cloud provider12.

NEW QUESTION # 78
What should an administrator do when planning for Citrix DaaS disaster recovery?

- A. Pre-stage infrastructure components at the DR location.
- B. Deploy at least one Cloud Connector in every resource location.
- C. Plan to recover Cloud Connectors during a DR event.
- D. Deploy Cloud Connectors in DR and keep them offline.1

Answer: B

Explanation:
According to Citrix DaaS (formerly Citrix Virtual Apps and Desktops Service) architecture on Nutanix, a Resource Location is defined by the presence of Cloud Connectors.2 These connectors serve as the communication proxy between the Nutanix AHV infrastructure and the Citrix Cloud control plane.
For Disaster Recovery (DR) planning, the DR site functions as a distinct Resource Location. To ensure the DR site is available and manageable by the Citrix Cloud service during an event, an administrator must deploy at least one Cloud Connector in every resource location (though two are recommended for high availability). Keeping connectors offline (Option A) is unsupported because they require continuous connectivity to receive automatic updates; if they are offline for too long (tombstone life), they become invalid. Recovering connectors during an event (Option D) increases RTO unnecessarily. Therefore, establishing the DR site as a valid resource location with active Cloud Connectors is the correct planning step.
