Salesforce Certified Platform App Builder Sample Questions (Q40-Q45):

NEW QUESTION # 40

An app builder at Ursa Major Solar has been working on a new custom app in a sandbox that has been upgraded to the next major Salesforce version, and their Production instance is still on the current Salesforce version. The development is Complete and they are ready to deploy a change set. What should the app builder consider when planning the deployment?

- A. It will fail if there is a feature only available in the next version.
- B. The deployment is not possible due to different versions.
- C. The change set components will be upgraded to the next version in production.
- D. The change set will be automatically deployed when production is upgrade

Answer: A

Explanation:

When deploying from a sandbox on a newer Salesforce version to production on a current version, any components that rely on features not yet available in production will fail.

Change sets do not automatically upgrade production.

All features must be supported in the target org at deployment time.

Salesforce documentation notes that compatibility issues may occur if components use version-specific features, and deployments must be tested against the target org's current version. (Salesforce Help) A is incorrect because deployments do not automatically wait for production upgrades.

B is partially true, but deployments are possible if features are supported.

C is incorrect; components are not automatically upgraded.

NEW QUESTION # 41

Universal Containers has created two custom objects called Seminars and Attendees. Organization-wide defaults for these objects have been set to Private. Universal Containers wants to set up a new junction object between these custom objects. A select group of users should be able to edit records in the junction object. Which two steps should an app builder take to configure the proper security? Choose 2 answers

- A. Create owner-based sharing rules that give Read access to the master objects.
- B. Create an owner-based sharing rule that gives Read access to the junction object.
- C. Set Sharing Settings to Read Only on both Master-Detail relationship fields.
- D. Set lookup filters on both junction object relationship fields.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

The correct answers are A. Create owner-based sharing rules that give Read access to the master objects and C. Set Sharing Settings to Read Only on both Master-Detail relationship fields.

A junction object is normally created with two master-detail relationships to represent a many-to-many relationship. Salesforce documentation states that sharing access to a junction object record is determined by the user's access to both associated master records and the Sharing Setting option on the master-detail relationship fields.

Because the master objects, Seminars and Attendees, have private organization-wide defaults, selected users need record access to those master records. Owner-based sharing rules can grant the selected group Read access to the master object records. Salesforce also documents that organization-wide defaults define baseline record access, and sharing rules are used to extend access when defaults are private or restricted.

The Read Only sharing setting on the master-detail relationship allows users with at least read access to the master records to work with related detail records, assuming they also have the required object permissions on the junction object.

B is incorrect because lookup filters restrict selectable related records; they do not grant record access.

D is incorrect because junction object records in master-detail relationships inherit sharing from the master records. Sharing is not handled directly through an owner-based sharing rule on the junction object.

NEW QUESTION # 42

An app builder is tasked with adding key performance indicators on client pages. They want to see a summary of the number of open Opportunities and the number of won Opportunities for each Account.

Where should the app builder go to build these new rollups?

- A. Account Object
- B. Opportunity Object
- C. Lightning App Builder
- D. Lightning Object Creator

Answer: A

Explanation:

The app builder should go to the Account object to build these new rollups. A roll-up summary field is a type of field that can aggregate numeric values from child records related to a parent record by a master-detail relationship. The app builder can create two roll-up summary fields on the Account object that count the number of open Opportunities and the number of won Opportunities related to each Account. Lightning App Builder is not a place where the app builder can build these new rollups. Lightning App Builder is a tool that allows the app builder to customize the layout and components of Lightning pages, such as record pages, home pages, or app pages. It cannot create new fields or relationships on objects. Lightning Object Creator is not a place where the app builder can build these new rollups. Lightning Object Creator is a tool that allows the app builder to create custom objects from spreadsheet data by uploading a file and mapping columns to fields. It cannot create roll-up summary fields or relationships on existing objects. Opportunity object is not a place where the app builder can build these new rollups. The Opportunity object is the child object in the relationship with the Account object, and roll-up summary fields can only be created on the parent object.

NEW QUESTION # 43

Universal Containers manages leads in a Lead qualification queue where sales reps can accept ownership of the Lead. Campaign members are required to have a sales owner.

What validation rule should an app builder configure?

- A. AND(ISNEW(), ISBLANK(Lead.Owner:User.Id))
- B. NOT(ISNEW() && ISBLANK(Lead.Owner:Queue.Id))
- C. NOT(ISBLANK(Lead.Owner:Queue.Id))
- D. AND(ISBLANK(Lead.Owner.Id))

Answer: A

Explanation:

The validation rule should be AND(ISNEW(), ISBLANK(Lead.Owner:User.Id)). This rule will prevent saving a new lead record if the owner is not a user. This will ensure that campaign members have a sales owner. Option A is incorrect because it will prevent saving any lead record if the owner is blank, which is not the requirement. Option B is incorrect because it will prevent saving an existing lead record if the owner is a queue, which is not the requirement. Option D is incorrect because it will prevent saving any lead record if the owner is a queue, which is not the requirement.

NEW QUESTION # 44

Universal Containers wants to collaborate with its customers within Salesforce and has decided to enable the Allow Customer Invitations in the Chatter Settings. Which permission is granted to customers when invited to a Chatter group?

- A. The ability to mention accounts of which they are a contact.
- B. The ability to invite members to groups of which they are a member.
- C. The ability to request access to public groups.
- D. The ability to interact with members of their groups.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The correct answer is B.

When customer invitations are enabled for Chatter groups, invited customers get limited collaboration access. Salesforce documentation states that customers can see only the groups they're invited to and can interact only with members of those groups. A is incorrect because invited customers do not automatically get broad group-invitation rights. C is incorrect because Chatter customer access does not grant access to Account records. D is incorrect because customers are invited to specific groups; they do not receive general public-group request access.
