It includes concepts such as classes, interfaces, inheritance, polymorphism, and encapsulation, all of which are necessary for building robust and scalable ABAP applications.
Topic 5	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Core ABAP Programming: This section of the exam measures skills of SAP Application Programmers and covers foundational ABAP programming knowledge. Topics include modularization techniques, internal tables, control structures, and classical report programming. Mastery of these concepts is essential for building efficient ABAP applications.

SAP Certified Associate - Back-End Developer - ABAP Cloud Sample Questions (Q60-Q65):

NEW QUESTION # 60

In a booking record, how can you calculate the difference in days between the order date (type D) and the flight date (type D) of a flight?

- A. `data(gv_diff_days) = gs_booking-order_date - gs_booking-flight_date.`
- B. `data(gv_diff_days) = gs_booking-flight_dategs_booking-order_date.`
- C. `data(gv_diff_days) conv d(gs_booking-flight_dategs_booking-order_date).`
- D. `data(gv_diff_days) = conv d(gs_booking-order_dategs_booking-flight_date).`

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 61

What are advantages of using a field symbol for internal table row access? Note: There are answers to this question.

- A. Using a field symbol is faster than using a work area.
- B. The row content is copied to the field symbol instead to a work area
- C. A MODIFY statement to write changed contents back to the table is not required.
- D. The field symbol can be reused for other programs.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

A field symbol is a pointer that allows direct access to a row of an internal table without copying it to a work area. Using a field symbol for internal table row access has some advantages over using a work area, such as¹²:

A MODIFY statement to write changed contents back to the table is not required: This is true. When you use a work area, you have to copy the row content from the internal table to the work area, modify it, and then copy it back to the internal table using the MODIFY statement. This can be costly in terms of performance and memory consumption. When you use a field symbol, you can modify the row content directly in the internal table without any copying. Therefore, you do not need the MODIFY statement¹².

Using a field symbol is faster than using a work area: This is true. As explained above, using a field symbol avoids the overhead of copying data between the internal table and the work area. This can improve the performance of the loop considerably, especially for large internal tables. According to some benchmarks, using a field symbol can save 25-40% of the runtime compared to using a work area¹².

You cannot do any of the following:

The field symbol can be reused for other programs: This is false. A field symbol is a local variable that is only visible within the scope of its declaration. It cannot be reused for other programs unless it is declared globally or passed as a parameter. Moreover, a field symbol must have the same type as the line type of the internal table that it accesses. Therefore, it cannot be used for any internal table with a different line type12.

The row content is copied to the field symbol instead to a work area: This is false. As explained above, using a field symbol does not copy the row content to the field symbol. Instead, the field symbol points to the memory address of the row in the internal table and allows direct access to it. Therefore, there is no copying involved when using a field symbol12.

NEW QUESTION # 62

when you attempt to activate the definition, what will be the response?

- A. Activation error because the key fields of the union do not match
- B. Activation error because the field types of the union do not match
- C. Activation successful
- D. Activation error because the field names of the union do not match

Answer: D

Explanation:

The response will be an activation error because the field names of the union do not match. This is because the field names of the union must match in order for the definition to be activated. The union operator combines the result sets of two or more queries into a single result set. The queries that are joined by the union operator must have the same number and type of fields, and the fields must have the same names1. In the given code, the field names of the union do not match, because the first query has the fields carname, connid, cityfrom, and cityto, while the second query has the fields carname, carrier_id, cityfrom, and cityto. The field connid in the first query does not match the field carrier_id in the second query. Therefore, the definition cannot be activated.

NEW QUESTION # 63

You want to define the following CDS view entity with an input parameter:

```
define view entity Z_CONVERT with parameters i_currency : ???
```

Which of the following can you use to replace ????

(Select 2 correct answers)

- A. A component of an ABAP Dictionary structure
- B. A built-in ABAP Dictionary type
- C. A data element
- D. A built-in ABAP type

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation from Exact Extract:

CDS view parameters must be defined with types that are visible in the ABAP Dictionary.

* A. Built-in ABAP Dictionary type ## Supported (e.g., CURR, CHAR).

* D. Data element ## Supported, as data elements are dictionary-level types.

* B. Built-in ABAP type (like i, string) ## Not supported directly, CDS requires dictionary-compatible types.

* C. Component of a structure ## Not supported directly; parameters cannot reference structure components.

This ensures that CDS definitions remain database-compatible and semantically rich, which is critical for RAP services.
