Splunk Core Certified Power User Exam Sample Questions (Q208-Q213):

NEW QUESTION # 208

What does the following search do?

- A. Creates a table that groups the total number of users by vegetarian corndogs.
- B. Creates a table of the total count of mystery meat corndogs split by user.
- C. Creates a table of the total count of users and split by corndogs.
- D. Creates a table with the count of all types of corndogs eaten split by user.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 209

Which syntax will find events where the values for the 1 field match the values for the Renewal-MonthYear field?

- A. | where '10yearAnniversary=Renewal-MonthYear
- B. | where 10yearAnniversary=Renewal-MonthYear
- C. | where 10yearAnniversary='Renewal-MonthYear'

- D. | where '10yearAnniversary'='Renewal-MonthYear'

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is A. | where 10yearAnniversary=Renewal-MonthYear.

The where command is used to filter the search results based on an expression that evaluates to true or false.

The where command can compare two fields, two values, or a field and a value. The where command can also use functions, operators, and wildcards to create complex expressions¹.

The syntax for the where command is:

| where <expression>

The expression can be a comparison, a calculation, a logical operation, or a combination of these. The expression must evaluate to true or false for each event.

To compare two fields with the where command, you need to use the field names without any quotation marks. For example, if you want to find events where the values for the 10yearAnniversary field match the values for the Renewal-MonthYear field, you can use the following syntax:

| where 10yearAnniversary=Renewal-MonthYear

This will return only the events where the two fields have the same value.

The other options are not correct because they use quotation marks around the field names, which will cause the where command to interpret them as string values instead of field names. For example, if you use:

| where '10yearAnniversary'='Renewal-MonthYear'

This will return no events because there are no events where the string value '10yearAnniversary' is equal to the string value 'Renewal-MonthYear'.

NEW QUESTION # 210

Which search would limit an "alert" tag to the "host" field?

- A. tag=alert
- B. tag:host=alert
- C. tag=alert
- D. host:tag:alert

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 211

Given the event below, how can the value in the Zip_Code field be used to retrieve the local weather from an external resource?

25/Oct/2023:20:29:43 , 151.131.173.143 , V2.003 , Zip_Code: 75890 , DataCenter: DC1

- A. Create a POST workflow action.
- B. Create a Search workflow action.
- C. Create a PUT workflow action.
- D. Create a GET workflow action.

Answer: D

Explanation:

To retrieve data from an external resource based on a field like Zip_Code, a GET workflow action is appropriate. GET requests retrieve information by passing the Zip_Code as a parameter to an external URL, commonly used in weather APIs.
