ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Manager Sample Questions (Q44-Q49):

NEW QUESTION # 44
Which of the following Is a way in which risk analysis drives test analysis?

- A. it drives root cause analysis for any defects found
- B. It guides the selection of test conditions that must be covered by testing
- C. It influences the type of reporting that will be used during execution
- D. It determines which tests should be executed first

Answer: B

Explanation:
* Role of Risk Analysis in Test Analysis:
* Risk analysis identifies areas with the highest likelihood and impact of failure, enabling the test team to focus on critical functionalities.
* It is used to determine test conditions that must be addressed to mitigate risks effectively.
* Evaluation of Options:
* Ais incorrect as determining test execution order happens during test execution, not analysis.
* Bis correct because selecting test conditions is part of test analysis influenced by risk levels.
* Crelates to reporting and is unrelated to test analysis.
* Dpertains to defect management, not test analysis.
References and Syllabus Alignment:
* This aligns with risk-based testing as described in "Risk Analysis and Risk-Based Testing" (TM-1.3.1).

NEW QUESTION # 45
Which testing metric identifies defect density?

- A. Project
- B. Product
- C. People
- D. Process

Answer: B

Explanation:
Defect density is a testing metric that measures the number of defects identified in acomponent or system divided by the size of the component or system (expressed in standard measurement terms, e.g., lines-of-code, number of classes or function points)1. Defect density is a product metric, as itevaluates the quality or reliability of a software product2. Therefore, option B is the correct answer. Option A is incorrect because project metrics are metrics that measure the characteristics of the software project, such as cost, schedule, effort, scope, or resources3. Option C is incorrect because process metrics are metrics that measure the characteristics of the software process, such as effectiveness, efficiency, productivity, or maturity. Option D is incorrect because people metrics are metrics that measure the characteristics of the software personnel, such as skills, experience, motivation, or satisfaction. NEW QUESTION # 46
Consider the following scenario:
Your customer is closely involved in the development project. Requirements are communicated verbally and rarely written down. An iterative development model is being followed and time boxing is used to stay on schedule.
Which of the following statements is true? [3]

- A. A requirements traceability matrix will be created at the start of each iteration.
- B. There is a risk that the system architecture may have to be changed during the development process.
- C. Testing will start when all coding is completed.
- D. Your developers are using a waterfall methodology.

Answer: B

Explanation:
In an iterative development model with close customer involvement and verbal communication of requirements, there is an inherent risk of changes in the system architecture. This is due to the evolving understanding of requirements and the potential for new requirements to emerge as the project progresses.
References:The ISTQB Advanced Level Test Manager syllabus emphasizes the importance of managing risks in iterative development models1. It suggests that test managers should be prepared for changes, including possible alterations to the system architecture, as part of the risk management process23. This approach ensures that the testing strategy remains flexible and responsive to changes throughout the development lifecycle.
