NEW QUESTION # 18

In the context of Oracle Redwood, what does "experience" refer to?

- A. A single event or action
- B. A specific module for game development
- C. The color scheme used in Oracle's branding
- D. The overall perception and interaction a customer has with Oracle products

Full Detailed in Depth Explanatio n:

NEW QUESTION # 19

Which is the correct sequence of steps in the Design process?

- A. Articulate the vision, identify the Redwood Page templates, understand the problem, add the detail and refine the design, specify the design for development, and monitor engagement in the real world
- B. Understand the statement, articulate the problem, identify the Redwood Page templates to use, add the detail and refine the design, specify the design for development, and monitor engagement in the real world
- C. Articulate the vision, understand the problem, identify the Redwood Page templates to use, add the detail and refine the design, specify the design for development, and monitor engagement in the real world
- D. Understand the problem, articulate the vision, identify the Redwood Page templates to use, add the detail and refine the design, specify the design for development, and monitor engagement in the real world

Answer: D

Explanation:
Full Detailed in Depth Explanatio n:
The Redwood design process, as outlined in Oracle's Redwood documentation, follows a structured approach to ensure a user-centered and iterative design. The correct sequence starts with "Understand the problem" (to define the challenge), followed by "Articulate the vision" (to set goals), "Identify the Redwood Page templates to use" (to select appropriate patterns), "Add the detail and refine the design" (to iterate), "Specify the design for development" (to hand off to developers), and "Monitor engagement in the real world" (to evaluate post-launch). Option D reflects this logical flow. Option A reverses the initial steps, Option B uses incorrect terminology ("Understand the statement"), and Option C misorders understanding the problem after template selection, which disrupts the process.

NEW QUESTION # 20

What does a build pipeline in Visual Builder Studio do?

- A. Can only package an AppUI extension, which requires manual deployment
- B. Can deploy an AppUI extension to multiple FA instances
- C. Can deploy an AppUI extension to only a single FA instance
- D. Can only deploy an AppUI extension to a stand-alone VB instance

Answer: B

Explanation:
Full Detailed in Depth Explanatio n:
A build pipeline in Visual Builder Studio (VBS) automates the process of packaging, building, and deploying applications or extensions, including AppUI extensions for Oracle Fusion Applications (FA). It is designed to streamline Continuous Integration/Continuous Deployment (CI/CD) workflows. Option D is correct because VBS build pipelines can deploy AppUI extensions to multiple Fusion Application instances (e.g., development, test, and production environments) as configured in the pipeline settings. This flexibility is a key feature of VBS, allowing developers to target multiple environments without manual intervention. Option A is incorrect because deployment is not limited to stand-alone VB instances; it can target FA instances as well. Option B is wrong as it restricts deployment to a single FA instance, which contradicts VBS's multi-environment capability. Option C is inaccurate because the pipeline does more than just packaging-it automates deployment too.
