NEW QUESTION # 20
A website built on AEM Sites displays the company's stock price in the footer of all pages. The stock data is retrieved from a third party REST service using two-way SSL and rendered in an AEM component using HTL During performance testing in the last development sprint it becomes apparent that the third party service sometimes takes up to 30 seconds to respond, which degrades the overall site performance.
How should an Architect address this issue?

- A. Call the REST service directly from the browser
- B. Temporarily remove the component from all content
- C. Add a 5 second timeout to the REST call
- D. Load the stock data component asynchronously

Answer: D

Explanation:

- D. Navigate to /crx-quickstart/launchpad/felix/bundle/<ID>/data in the file system and copy the hmac and master files from the source instance to the target instances

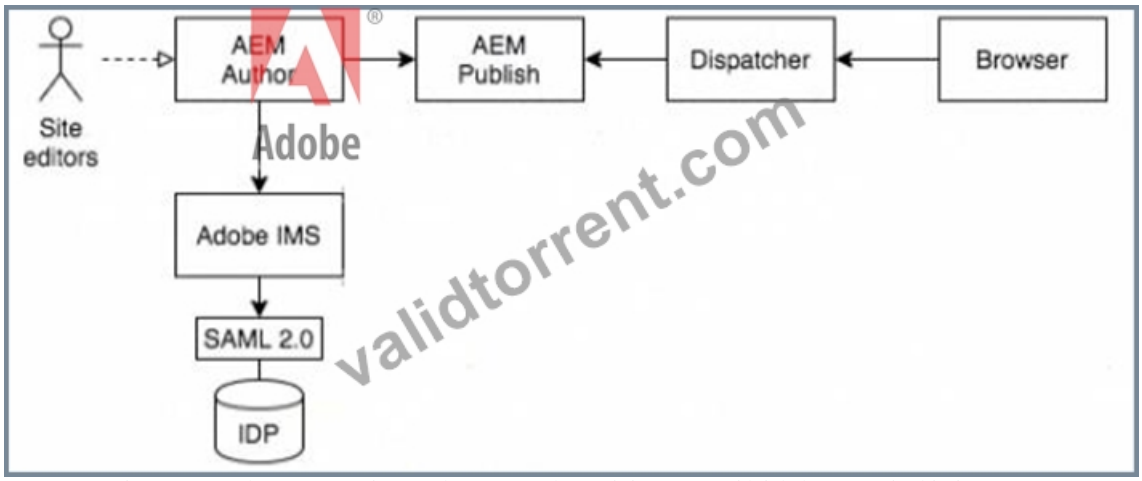
Refer to the exhibit.



A customer has SSO on its AEM Author environment using Adobe IMS, which is integrated with the customer's IDP using SAML
The customer plans to roll out a new secured website on AEM where SSO authentication is required for end users. The end user accounts are also managed in the customer's existing IDP.
How should the Architect set up the authentication for the website?

- A. Set up CUG and use User Synchronisation from Author to Publisher
- B. Integrate AEM Publisher using SAML with Adobe IMS
- C. Integrate AEM Publisher using oAuth with Adobe IMS
- D. Integrate AEM Publisher using SAML directly with the IDP

Answer: D

Explanation:
SAML is a common and standard SSO handler that allows a user to access multiple systems after providing authentication credentials once. AEM ships with a SAML 2.0 Authentication Handler that supports signing and encryption of messages, automatic creation of users, and synching groups to existing ones in AEM3. By integrating AEM Publisher using SAML directly with the IDP, the Architect can leverage the existing user accounts and authentication mechanism for the end users of the secured website.
