NEW QUESTION # 12

Which two are the workflows in Project Financial Management? (Choose two.)

- A. Expenditure Item Adjustment
- B. Burden Cost Recalculation
- C. Asset Line Generation
- D. Capital Interest Calculation
- E. Project Status Change

Answer: A,E

Explanation:

The workflows in Project Financial Management are business processes that automate the approval and notification tasks for various project transactions and events. Two of the workflows in Project Financial Management are:

* Project Status Change: This workflow manages the approval and notification tasks for changing the status of a project or task from one value to another. For example, when a project or task is submitted for approval, this workflow routes the request to the appropriate approvers and notifies them of the action required.

* Expenditure Item Adjustment: This workflow manages the approval and notification tasks for adjusting expenditure items that have been charged to a project or task. For example, when an expenditure item is adjusted by a project manager or a cost accountant, this workflow routes the adjustment to the appropriate approvers and notifies them of the action required. Capital Interest Calculation, Burden Cost Recalculation, and Asset Line Generation are not workflows in Project Financial Management, but processes that perform various calculations and transactions for project costs and assets. Which two statements are true about the borrowed and lent cross charge method? (Choose two.)

- A. Internal Invoice is not generated with this method.
- B. This method allows you to process cross charge transactions across legal entities.
- C. This method creates accounting entries that move an amount equal to the transfer price between the provider and receiver organizations
- D. You must set up a contract business unit to use this method.

Answer: A,B

The borrowed and lent cross charge method is a method that allows you to process cross charge transactions between provider and receiver organizations that belong to different legal entities within the same primary ledger. This method does not generate internal invoices or intercompany accounting entries for cross charge transactions. Instead, this method creates accounting entries that move an amount equal to the transfer price between the provider and receiver organizations using borrowed and lent accounts. Two statements that are true about this method are:

- * Internal Invoice is not generated with this method. This method does not create internal invoices for cross charge transactions, as these transactions are accounted within the same primary ledger using borrowed and lent accounts.
- * This method allows you to process cross charge transactions across legal entities. This method allows you to process cross charge transactions between provider and receiver organizations that belong to different legal entities within the same primary ledger, as long as they share the same chart of accounts, calendar, currency, and subledger accounting method.

NEW QUESTION # 15

Your organization has been awarded a new contract based on which you are allowed to sell:

- * Items not tracked in inventory
- * Inventory items
- * Services

Which contract structure would fulfill your requirement of item sales? (Choose the best answer.)

- A. Create two contract lines with a line type each of "sell intent, item, project-based" and "subscription, project-based, sell".
- B. Create two contract lines with a line type each of "sell intent, free-form, project-based" and "sell intent, item, project-based".
- C. Create two contract lines with a line type each of "product, project-based, sell agreement, standalone" and "sell intent, item, project-based".
- D. Create two contract lines with a line type each of "free-form, project-based buy agreement" and "bundle sell, project-based".

Answer: B

Explanation:

To sell items not tracked in inventory, inventory items, and services, you can create two contract lines with different line types. The line type of "sell intent, free-form, project-based" allows you to sell any item or service without specifying the item number or quantity. The line type of "sell intent, item, project-based" allows you to sell inventory items by specifying the item number and quantity. Both line types are project-based, meaning they are linked to a project and generate revenue based on project performance. Reference:
