最新的 A+ 220-1201 免費考試真題 (Q118-Q123):

問題 #118

A management team is concerned about enterprise devices that do not have any controls in place. Which of the following should an administrator implement to address this concern?

- A. vpn
- B. MFA
- C. SSL
- D. MDM

答案： D

解題說明：

Mobile Device Management (MDM) enables administrators to enforce controls on enterprise devices, such as restricting apps, ensuring compliance, and remotely managing security policies.

問題 #119

Which of the following devices forwards data between different networks by analyzing the headers of packets?

- A. Router
- B. Unmanaged switch
- C. Hub
- D. Repeater

答案： A

解題說明：

A router is a network device that forwards data between different networks by examining packet headers, specifically the IP address information contained in Layer 3 (Network Layer) of the OSI model. According to the CompTIA A+ Core 1 (220-1201) networking objectives, routers use routing tables and packet header analysis to determine the best path for data to travel from a source network to a destination network. When a packet arrives at a router interface, the router reads the destination IP address in the packet header, compares it against its routing table, and then forwards the packet to the appropriate next hop or network interface. This function allows routers to connect multiple networks such as LANs, WANs, and the internet.

The other options do not perform this function. A hub operates at Layer 1 (Physical Layer) and simply broadcasts incoming signals to all connected ports without inspecting any packet information. A repeater also operates at the physical layer and is used only to regenerate or amplify signals to extend network distance. An unmanaged switch operates mainly at Layer 2 (Data Link Layer) and forwards frames based on MAC addresses, not IP packet headers. Because only routers analyze packet headers and forward traffic between different networks, Router is the correct answer.

問題 #120

A technician is troubleshooting stylus issues on identical, company-provided tablets. Users can purchase their own accessories. Some users have no issues, but others report that their styluses charge intermittently and die frequently. Which of the following is the most likely cause of this issue?

- A. Certain cases are causing charging issues.
- B. Some of the tablets have manufacturing defects.
- C. The tablets need to be updated.
- D. The malfunctioning styluses need firmware updates.

答案： A

解題說明：

The most likely cause is third-party or ill-fitting cases obstructing the contact between the stylus and the tablet charging mechanism. Some cases may not be designed with stylus charging in mind, particularly if users are purchasing their own accessories.

Option B: A software update might fix OS-related issues, but would not typically affect physical charging.
Option C: If some devices had defects, the issue would likely be consistent, not isolated to some users.
Option D: Firmware issues could be a factor but are less likely than physical obstructions when users are using different accessories.
CompTIA A+ Core 1 Exam Objective Reference:
Objective 1.4: Given a scenario, configure settings and use cases for laptops and mobile devices.

問題 #121

An administrator is setting up a conference room for an important board of directors meeting. The chief operating officer has asked the administrator to make sure a redundant internet connection is available. The office only has one ISP, and the conference room equipment is currently configured using Ethernet. Which of the following should the administrator set up in order to ensure redundancy?

- A. Hotspot
- B. Wireless access point
- C. Bluetooth
- D. Near-field communication

答案： A

解題說明：

A hotspot provides a redundant internet connection using cellular data. This ensures connectivity for the meeting even if the primary ISP connection fails.

問題 #122

Which of the following services is used to allocate IP addresses in an enterprise-wide environment?

- A. DHCP
- B. DNS
- C. Syslog
- D. Telnet

答案： A

解題說明：

Dynamic Host Configuration Protocol (DHCP) is a network service used to automatically assign IP addresses and other network configuration details (such as subnet masks and default gateways) to devices on an enterprise-wide network.

Why Not A (DNS): DNS resolves domain names to IP addresses but does not allocate IP addresses.

Why Not B (Syslog): Syslog is used for logging system events, not IP address management.

Why Not C (Telnet): Telnet is a protocol for remote access, not for IP allocation.

CompTIA A+ Exam Reference: Core 1 (220-1201), Section 2.6, DHCP concepts.
