IIA Essentials of Internal Auditing Sample Questions (Q712-Q717):

NEW QUESTION # 712

Which of the following best demonstrates conformance with the Standards regarding the internal audit activity's purpose authority, and responsibility?

- A. Approval of senior management that the internal audit activity is functioning as originally designed
- B. Discussion and formal presentation of the internal audit charter to the board of directors
- C. Certification by external auditors on the purpose, authority and responsibility of the internal audit activity
- D. Self-assessment of the internal audit activity completed by the chief audit executive

Answer: B

Explanation:

The best demonstration of conformance with the Standards regarding the internal audit activity's purpose, authority, and responsibility is the discussion and formal presentation of the internal audit charter to the board of directors. This ensures that the board is fully aware of and agrees with the internal audit's defined role within the organization, thereby establishing a clear basis for its operations and scope of work.

NEW QUESTION # 713

A company's chief audit executive determines that the internal audit staff does not have the requisite skills to conduct an audit of the financial derivatives area. Which of the following actions would be the least acceptable?

- A. Determine the requisite knowledge needed and obtain the proper training for auditors if such training is available within the appropriate time framework outlined by the audit committee.
- B. Employ the skills of a financial derivatives expert to consult on the project, and supplement the consulting with a local seminar on financial derivatives.
- C. Notify the audit committee of the problem and consult with them regarding outsourcing the audit engagement to a qualified external auditing firm.
- D. Notify the audit committee of the problem and assign the most competent auditors to perform the audit engagement.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 714

To achieve conformance with the Standards, the chief audit executive must include which of the following activities in the quality assurance and improvement program (QAIP)?

- A. Assess Standards conformance for each individual engagement.
- B. Conduct a self assessment at least once every five years.
- C. Require board oversight of the QAIP.
- D. Report the results of the QAIP to senior management

Answer: D

Explanation:

To achieve conformance with the Standards, the chief audit executive must include the activity of reporting the results of the quality assurance and improvement program (QAIP) to senior management and the board. This is essential for maintaining transparency and accountability in the internal audit activity's efforts to uphold and enhance the quality of its operations. NEW QUESTION # 715

Human resources and payroll are separate departments. Which of the following combinations would provide the best segregation of duties?

- A. Payroll personnel add employees and enter employee bank account numbers but process hours only as approved by the human resources department. Paychecks are automatically deposited in the employee's bank account.
- B. Human resources personnel add employees, review and submit payroll hours to the payroll department for processing, and deliver paychecks to employees.
- C. Human resources personnel add employees, and payroll personnel process hours and enter employee bank account numbers. Paychecks are automatically deposited in the employee's bank account.
- D. Human resources personnel add employees, payroll personnel process hours, and human resources personnel deliver paychecks to employees.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 716

Which of the following disclosures must the chief audit executive (CAE) include when communicating the results of the quality assurance and improvement program to senior management and the board?

- A. Authority and responsibility of the internal audit activity
- B. Hours and sources of continuing professional education
- C. Scope and frequency of both the internal and external assessments
- D. independence and objectivity impairments of the CAE

Answer: C

Explanation:

When communicating the results of the quality assurance and improvement program (QAIP) to senior management and the board, the chief audit executive (CAE) must include disclosures on the "Scope and frequency of both the internal and external assessments." This information provides stakeholders with insight into the comprehensiveness and timing of the QAIP evaluations, ensuring transparency and accountability in the internal audit function's efforts to maintain or improve quality and effectiveness.
