Lpi LPIC-1 Exam 101, Part 1 of 2, version 5.0 Sample Questions (Q74-Q79):

NEW QUESTION # 74

Which signal is missing from the following command that is commonly used to instruct a daemon to reinitialize itself, including reading configuration files?

```
killall -s _____ daemon
```

Answer:

Explanation:

HUP, SIGHUP, 1

NEW QUESTION # 75

Which of the following commands displays the contents of a `gzip` compressed tar archive?

- A. `tar ztf archive.tgz`
- B. `gzip -d archive.tgz | tar tvf -`
- C. `gzip archive.tgz | tar xvf -`
- D. `tar cf archive.tgz`

Answer: A

Explanation:

The command that displays the contents of a `gzip` compressed tar archive is `tar ztf archive.tgz`. This command uses the following options:

`-z`: Tells tar to read or write archives through `gzip`, allowing it to work on compressed files directly. `-t`: Lists the contents of an archive without extracting it. `-f archive.tgz`: Specifies the name of the archive file.

The output of this command will show the names of the files and directories stored in the archive, one per line. For example, if the archive contains three files named `file1`, `file2`, and `file3`, the output will be:

file1 file2 file3

The other commands are incorrect for the following reasons:

* `gzip archive.tgz | tar xvf -`: This command will decompress the archive using `gzip` and pipe it to `tar`, which will extract the files to the current directory. The `-` option tells `tar` to read the archive from the standard input. This command does not display the contents of the archive, but rather extracts them.

* `gzip -d archive.tgz | tar tvf -`: This command is similar to the previous one, except that it uses the `-d` option for `gzip` to decompress the archive instead of compressing it, and the `-t` option for `tar` to list the contents instead of extracting them. However, this command is redundant and inefficient, as `tar` can handle compressed archives directly with the `-z` option. Also, the `-d` option for `gzip` will delete the original archive file after decompression, which may not be desirable.

* `tar cf archive.tgz`: This command will create a new archive named `archive.tgz` from the files and directories given as arguments.

However, this command does not use the `-z` option, so the archive will not be compressed with `gzip`. Also, this command does not display the contents of the archive, but rather creates it.

NEW QUESTION # 76

Consider the following directory:

drwxrwxr-x 2 root sales 4096 Jan 1 15:21 sales

Which command ensures new files created within the directory `sales` are owned by the group `sales`? (Choose two.)

- A. `setpol -R newgroup=sales sales`
- B. `chgrp -p sales sales`
- C. `chown --persistent *.sales sales`
- D. `chmod 2775 sales`
- E. `chmod g+s sales`

Answer: D,E

Explanation:

Explanation

The command `chmod g+s sales` sets the setgid bit on the directory `sales`, which means that any new file or subdirectory created within `sales` will inherit the group ownership of the directory. The command `chmod 2775 sales` does the same thing, but also sets the permissions of the directory to `rw-rwxr-x`, which means that the owner, group, and others can read, write, and execute files in the directory. Both commands ensure that new files created within the directory `sales` are owned by the group `sales`. The other commands are either invalid or do not affect the group ownership of new files.
