NEW QUESTION # 351

Using an independent service provider for logistics would be most appropriate in which of the following situations?

- A. A cable television company that wants to add services
- B. A financial services company that wants to expand its services
- C. A shoe company that wants to penetrate a foreign market
- D. A business that owns plants and warehouses globally

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 352

Which of the following factors is most likely to slow the adoption of collaborative planning, forecasting, and replenishment (CPFR)?

- A. The cost of electronic data interchange services
- B. The reluctance to share detailed information
- C. The risk of security breaches
- D. The risk that changed processes will disrupt operations

Answer: B

Explanation:

* Collaborative Planning, Forecasting, and Replenishment (CPFR): CPFR is a business practice that combines the intelligence of multiple trading partners in the planning and fulfillment of customer demand.

* Information Sharing: For CPFR to be effective, all partners must share detailed information, including sales data, forecasts, and replenishment plans.

* Reluctance to Share: Many companies are hesitant to share detailed information due to concerns about competitive advantage, trust, and data security. This reluctance is a significant barrier to the adoption of CPFR.

* Other Factors: While the cost of electronic data interchange (EDI) services, the risk of operational disruptions, and security breaches are concerns, the primary factor slowing CPFR adoption is the reluctance to share detailed information, which is foundational to CPFR's collaborative nature.
