Appian Certified Analyst Sample Questions (Q42-Q47):

NEW QUESTION # 42
The business has requested a requirement that developers say will be difficult to build in Appian.
Which next step should the Appian Analyst take?

- A. Ask the business about the underlying need for this feature, and provide alternate approaches that can achieve the same functionality.
- B. Use a mockup to illustrate alternatives with different user interfaces, and propose the alternatives to the business in the next requirements session.
- C. Ask the Product Owner if the requirement can be deprioritized.
- D. Ask the developers to investigate workarounds or plug-ins to reduce the implementation effort.

Answer: A

Explanation:
When developers identify that a requested requirement will be difficult to build in Appian, the next step for the Appian Analyst is to engage with the business to understand the underlying need for the feature. By discussing the core objectives, the analyst can propose alternative approaches or solutions that are feasible within Appian's capabilities. This approach ensures that the business's needs are met while also aligning with the technical constraints of the platform.Appian Documentation - Requirements Gathering
Note: Options A, C, and D may involve deprioritizing or investigating workarounds, but these steps should only be considered after thoroughly understanding the business requirement and exploring alternative solutions.

NEW QUESTION # 43
A given user story has a description and an acceptance criterion.
Which two other things are needed to mark the story as ready?

- A. Sprint number
- B. Estimation
- C. Developer assignment
- D. Priority

Answer: B,D

Explanation:
Priority (A): Before a user story can be marked as ready, it needs to be prioritized. This helps the development team understand the importance of the story relative to other items in the backlog and ensures that the most critical features are addressed first.Appian Documentation - Managing Backlogs and Prioritization Estimation (D): Estimation is essential to determine the effort required to implement the user story. It allows the team to plan the sprint effectively, allocate resources, and ensure that the story can be completed within the sprint timeline.Appian Documentation - Estimation Techniques Note: Sprint number (B) and developer assignment (C) are important for sprint planning and task allocation but are not required to mark the story as ready.

NEW QUESTION # 44
Within the "initiate" phase, who is expected to lead and facilitate requirements gathering discussions?

- A. Product Owner
- B. Appian Analyst
- C. Scrum Master
- D. Testers

Answer: B

Explanation:
During the "initiate" phase of a project, the Appian Analyst is expected to lead and facilitate requirements gathering discussions. The Appian Analyst works closely with stakeholders to understand business needs and translate them into technical requirements that the development team can implement.
Role of Appian Analyst:
The Appian Analyst acts as a bridge between business stakeholders and the development team.
They are responsible for ensuring that the gathered requirements are clear, actionable, and aligned with the project goals.
Why Not Other Options?:
A . Scrum Master: Facilitates the Scrum process but does not lead requirements gathering.
B . Product Owner: Prioritizes the backlog but often relies on the Analyst for detailed requirements gathering.
C . Testers: Focus on verifying that the application meets the requirements but do not typically gather them.

The Appian Analyst plays a crucial role in the successful initiation of a project by ensuring that the requirements are well understood and documented.

NEW QUESTION # 45
A given user story has a description and an acceptance criterion.
Which two other things are needed to mark the story as ready?

- A. Sprint number
- B. Estimation
- C. Developer assignment
- D. Priority

Answer: B,D

NEW QUESTION # 46
You are part of a project team building an application for organizing and automating an approval process for purchase orders.

Each purchase order requires approvals from multiple users within the application, and these approvals are sequential (for example, User B receives an approval task after the completion of User A's approval task). Your team is responsible for showing the approval step of each purchase order on its purchase order record.
Which Appian interface component should you use to best display the completed, current, and future approval steps for each purchase order?

- A. Gauge Component
- B. Progress Bar Component
- C. Org Chart Component
- D. Milestone Component

Answer: D

Explanation:
The Milestone Component in Appian is the best choice for displaying the completed, current, and future approval steps of each purchase order. This component visually represents the progression of a process with distinct milestones, making it ideal for sequential tasks like approvals. Each milestone can indicate whether the step is completed, active, or pending, providing a clear and intuitive view of the approval process for users.Appian Documentation - Milestone Component Note: The Progress Bar Component (A) is more suited for linear progress representation rather than distinct stages. The Gauge Component (B) and Org Chart Component (D) are not appropriate for this type of sequential task display.
