Amazon AWS Certified Solutions Architect - Professional Sample Questions (Q325-Q330):

NEW QUESTION # 325

A user is creating a Provisioned IOPS volume. What is the maximum ratio the user should configure between Provisioned IOPS and the volume size?

- A. 10 to 1
- B. 20 to 1
- C. 30 to 1
- D. 50 to 1

Answer: B

Explanation:

Provisioned IOPS SSD (io1) volumes are designed to meet the needs of I/O-intensive workloads, particularly database workloads, that are sensitive to storage performance and consistency. An io1 volume can range in size from 4 GiB to 16 TiB and you can provision 100 up to 20,000 IOPS per volume. The maximum ratio of provisioned IOPS to requested volume size (in GiB) is 50:1. For example, a 100 GiB volume can be provisioned with up to 5,000 IOPS. Any volume 400 GiB in size or greater allows provisioning up to the 20,000 IOPS maximum.

NEW QUESTION # 326

A company is developing and hosting several projects in the AWS Cloud. The projects are developed across multiple AWS accounts under the same organization in AWS Organizations. The company requires the cost for cloud infrastructure to be allocated to the owning project. The team responsible for all of the AWS accounts has discovered that several Amazon EC2 instances are lacking the Project tag used for cost allocation.

Which actions should a solutions architect take to resolve the problem and prevent it from happening in the future? (Select THREE.)

- A. Create an AWS Config aggregator for the organization to collect a list of EC2 instances with the missing Project tag
- B. Create an AWS Config rule in each account to find resources with missing tags.
- C. Use AWS Security Hub to aggregate a list of EC2 instances with the missing Project tag.
- D. Create an SCP in the organization with a deny action for ec2:RunInstances if the Project tag is missing.
- E. Create an IAM policy in each account with a deny action for ec2:RunInstances if the Project tag is missing.
- F. Use Amazon Inspector in the organization to find resources with missing tags.

Answer: A,B,D

NEW QUESTION # 327

A company has an Amazon EC2 deployment that has the following architecture:

* An application tier that contains 8 m4.xlarge instances

* A Classic Load Balancer

* Amazon S3 as a persistent data store

After one of the EC2 instances fails, users report very slow processing of their requests. A Solutions Architect must recommend design changes to maximize system reliability. The solution must minimize costs.

What should the Solution Architect recommend?

- A. Replace the application tier with 4 m4.2xlarge instances
- B. Migrate the existing EC2 instances to a serverless deployment using AWS Lambda functions
- C. Replace the application tier with m4.large instances in an Auto Scaling group
- D. Change the Classic Load Balancer to an Application Load Balancer

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

By default, connection draining is enabled for Application Load Balancers but must be enabled for Classic Load Balancers. When Connection Draining is enabled and configured, the process of deregistering an instance from an Elastic Load Balancer gains an additional step. For the duration of the configured timeout, the load balancer will allow existing, in-flight requests made to an instance to complete, but it will not send any new requests to the instance. During this time, the API will report the status of the instance as InService, along with a message stating that "Instance deregistration currently in progress." Once the timeout is reached, any remaining connections will be forcibly closed.

NEW QUESTION # 328

A solutions architect is designing a solution that consists of a fleet of Amazon EC2 Reserved Instances (RIs) in an Auto Scaling group that will grow over time as usage increases. The solution needs to maintain 80% RI coverage to maintain cost control with an alert to the DevOps team using an email distribution list when coverage drops below 30%. The solution must also include the ability to generate a report to easily track and manage coverage. The company has a policy that allows only one workload for each AWS account. Which set of steps should the solutions architect take to create the report and alert the DevOps team?

- A. Create an Amazon Simple Notification Service (Amazon SNS) topic and subscribe the DevOps email distribution list. Use the Cost Explorer console to configure the report for RI utilization, set the utilization target to 30%, and link to the SNS topic created in the alert configuration.
- B. Create an Amazon Simple Notification Service (Amazon SNS) topic and subscribe the DevOps email distribution list. Enable cost allocation tags and ensure instances populate a customer-managed cost allocation tag at startup. Use the AWS Billing and Cost Management console to create a budget for RI coverage, filter using the customer-managed cost allocation tag, and set the threshold to 80% and link to the SNS topic created in the alert configuration.
- C. Use the AWS Billing and Cost Management console to create a reservation budget for RI utilization, set the utilization to 80%, and enter the email distribution list in the alert configuration.
- D. Enable cost allocation tags and ensure instances populate a customer-managed cost allocation tag at startup. Use the Cost Explorer console to configure the report for RI coverage, filter using the customer-managed cost allocation tag, and set the threshold to 80% and enter the email distribution list in the alert configuration.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 329

A solutions architect is designing an application to accept timesheet entries from employees on their mobile devices. Timesheets will be submitted weekly, with most of the submissions occurring on Friday. The data must be stored in a format that allows payroll administrators to run monthly reports. The infrastructure must be highly available and scale to match the rate of incoming data and reporting requests.

Which combination of steps meets these requirements while minimizing operational overhead? (Select TWO.)

- A. Store the timesheet submission data in Amazon S3. Use Amazon Athena and Amazon QuickSight to generate the reports using Amazon S3 as the data source.
- B. Store the timesheet submission data in Amazon Redshift. Use Amazon QuickSight to generate the reports using Amazon Redshift as the data source.
- C. Deploy the application in a container using Amazon Elastic Container Service (Amazon ECS) with load balancing across multiple Availability Zones. Use scheduled Service Auto Scaling to add capacity before the high volume of submissions on Fridays.
- D. Deploy the application front end to an Amazon S3 bucket served by Amazon CloudFront. Deploy the application backend using Amazon API Gateway with an AWS Lambda proxy integration.
- E. Deploy the application to Amazon EC2 On-Demand Instances with load balancing across multiple Availability Zones. Use scheduled Amazon EC2 Auto Scaling to add capacity before the high volume of submissions on Fridays.

Answer: B,C
