NEW QUESTION # 84
Richard is analyzing a corporate network. After an alert in the network's IPS. he identified that all the servers are sending huge amounts of traffic to the website abc.xyz. What type of information security attack vectors have affected the network?

- A. Botnet
- B. Advance persistent three Is
- C. IOT threats
- D. Ransomware

Answer: A

Explanation:
When a corporate network's servers are sending huge amounts of traffic to a specific website, as detected by the network's Intrusion Prevention System (IPS), this behavior is indicative of a Botnet attack. A Botnet is a network of compromised computers, often referred to as "bots," that are controlled remotely by an attacker, typically without the knowledge of the owners of the computers. The attacker can command these bots to execute distributed denial-of-service (DDoS) attacks, send spam, or conduct other malicious activities. In this scenario, the servers behaving as bots and targeting a website with large volumes of traffic suggests that they have been co-opted into a Botnet to potentially perform a DDoS attack on the website abc.xyz.
References:Incident Handler (ECIH v3) courses and study guides discuss various types of cyber threats and attack vectors, including Botnets and their role in distributed cyber attacks.
