Appian Senior Developer Sample Questions (Q107-Q112):

NEW QUESTION # 107

You're developing a case management application. Currently, users can view a list of all cases designed using a `forEach()` loop from a record query. Users can navigate to the case summary page which shows the case details in a two (2) column layout. Users are also able to update the case details.

During the last round of UAT testing, users reported that the tool was not intuitive to use.

Match each feedback comment to the suggested UI/UX improvements.

Note: Each UI/UX improvement will be used once, or not at all. To change your responses, you may deselect your response by clicking the blank space at the top of the selection list.

NEW QUESTION # 108

What should you use to create a predefined query in a database for ease of use?

- A. Expression Rule
- B. Stored Procedure
- C. View

Answer: C

Explanation:

A database view is used to create a predefined query, making it easy to access, reuse, and join data for applications like Appian.

NEW QUESTION # 109

A view is created with the primary table PERSON and is joined using a left join with the APPOINTMENT table on the column "PERSON_ID". There is a one-to-many relationship between the PERSON and APPOINTMENT tables.

A Custom Data Type (CDT) and a data store entity have been created based on this view, with the primary key being "PERSON_ID".

Review the data presented in the PERSON and APPOINTMENT tables:

Which two statements are true when the following query entity is executed? (Choose two.)

- A. result totalCount is 3

- B. Appian makes one more query to the database (other than the actual query to fetch the data) to get the totalCount based on the applied filters.
- C. Appian makes one more query to the database (other than the actual query to fetch the data) to get the totalCount based on the applied filters and paging info.
- D. result totalCount is 1

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Appian makes an additional query to the database (other than the main query for data) to retrieve the totalCount when fetchTotalCount: true() is used.

The result totalCount is 1, as there is only one person (PERSON_ID 1101) being filtered, even though there are multiple "New" appointments for that person; with a CDT based on PERSON_ID as the primary key, only one row is counted per person.

NEW QUESTION # 110

You have a requirement to implement an audit trail for any modifications to a record.

You need to select the most efficient design option that has the least impact on your Appian application.

What should you do?

- A. Create a trigger on the database table to capture the audit trail to a table
- B. Create an Appian process to capture the change history and write the audit trail to the database
- C. Create a custom plug in that can write an audit trail to a log file.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 111

The synced record Task has a self-referential relationship defined in the column parentTaskId. There is a many-to- one record relationship between the id and parentTaskId called parentTask.

For a given task ID, you need to return the task name and the parent task name.

What should you do?

- A. Use a!queryRecordType() filtered on the task id once to return the task name and parent task ID. Query the record again to return the parent task name.
- B. Create a sync-time custom record field on the Task record called parentName. Specify this field to return in the query field selection.
- C. Use a!queryRecordType() With a filter on the task id, with fields specified to return recordType!Task.name and recordType!Task.parentTask.name.

Answer: C

Explanation:

A single a!queryRecordType() call filtered by the task's id and selecting both recordType!Task.name and recordType!Task.parentTask.name leverages the existing self-referential relationship, returning the task name and its parent's name in one efficient query without additional custom fields or extra queries.
