CertiProf Certified ISO/IEC 27001:2022 Foundation Sample Questions (Q17-Q22):

NEW QUESTION # 17

What details must be included in a Statement of Applicability?

- A. Justification for the exclusion of controls
- B. All of the above
- C. Justification for the inclusion of controls
- D. The controls considered necessary

Answer: B

Explanation:

In ISO/IEC 27001:2022, the Statement of Applicability is a required documented output of the information security risk treatment process. It must contain the necessary controls, including whether they are implemented, and the justification for their inclusion. It must also include justification for excluding controls from Annex A when they are not applicable. Therefore, all three elements listed in options A, B, and C are part of a proper Statement of Applicability, making option D the correct answer.

NEW QUESTION # 18

Which of the following activities are responsibilities of top management?

- A. All of the above
- B. Supporting the drive for continual improvement
- C. Ensuring compliance with the information security policy
- D. Assigning the resources necessary to maintain the system

Answer: A

Explanation:

ISO/IEC 27001:2022 requires top management to demonstrate leadership and commitment with respect to the ISMS. This includes ensuring that the information security policy and objectives are established, ensuring that the resources needed for the ISMS are available, and promoting continual improvement. Top management is also responsible for supporting relevant roles and ensuring that the ISMS achieves its intended outcomes.

Since all of the listed activities align with top management responsibilities, option D is correct.

NEW QUESTION # 19

Which statement describes a critical success factor for an Information Security Management System ISMS?

- A. Appointing at least two internal auditors for the information security system
- B. Implementing a measurement system used to evaluate information security management performance and provide suggestions for improvement
- C. Performing a second-party audit
- D. Hiring an information security coordinator

Answer: B

Explanation:

An effective ISMS depends on monitoring, measurement, analysis, and evaluation. ISO/IEC 27001:2022 requires the organization to determine what needs to be monitored and measured, how this will be done, and when the results will be analyzed and evaluated. A measurement system supports informed decision-making, demonstrates performance, and enables continual improvement. The other options may be useful in some organizations, but they are not critical success factors defined by the standard. Therefore, option B is the best answer.

NEW QUESTION # 20

In the context of clause 6.1 actions to address risks and opportunities, what is defined as residual risk?

- A. Effect of uncertainty on objectives
- B. None of the above
- C. Risk remaining after risk treatment
- D. Informed decision to take a particular risk

Answer: C

Explanation:

Residual risk is the risk that remains after risk treatment has been applied. In an ISMS, organizations assess risks, select treatment options, and implement controls or other measures to reduce risk to an acceptable level.

Even after treatment, some level of risk may still remain, and that remaining portion is called residual risk.

Therefore, option C is correct.

NEW QUESTION # 21

What does ISO/IEC 27001:2022 require for internal audits?

- A. A person designated by top management who can perform internal audits in all areas within the system scope
- B. Conducting internal audits at planned intervals to provide information on whether the Information Security Management System conforms to the organization's own requirements and to the requirements of ISO/IEC 27001:2022
- C. Acquisition of a set of information security tools to document internal audits
- D. A consultancy to perform second-party internal audits accurately

Answer: B

Explanation:

ISO/IEC 27001:2022 requires the organization to conduct internal audits at planned intervals. These audits must determine whether the ISMS conforms to the organization's own requirements for its ISMS and to the requirements of the standard, and whether the ISMS is effectively implemented and maintained. The standard does not require a specific tool, consultant, or one designated person to audit every area. Therefore, option C is correct.
