Cyber AB Certified CMMC Assessor (CCA) Exam 認定 CMMC-CCA 試験 問題 (Q63-Q68):

質問 # 63

You are the Lead Assessor for a CMMC assessment. During the Final Findings Briefing, the OSC Assessment Official disputes a "NOT MET" finding, claiming the evidence was misinterpreted. What is the OSC's recourse according to the CMMC Assessment Process?

- A. Demand that the Lead Assessor revise the finding based on their explanation.
- B. Submit an appeal using the Assessment Appeals Process outlined in the CAP.
- C. Reapply for a new assessment with a different C3PAO.
- D. Request an immediate reassessment by the same Assessment Team.

正解: B

解説:

Comprehensive and Detailed in Depth Explanation:

The CAP provides an Appeals Process for disputes (Option B). Options A, C, and D do not follow CAP procedures.

Extract from Official Document (CAP v1.0):

* Section 3.3 - Assessment Appeals Process (pg. 34): "If the OSC disagrees with findings, they may submit an appeal using the Assessment Appeals Process." References:

質問 # 64

Patrick's company was hired to conduct a CMMC Level 2 assessment for Alto Technologies, where his aunt Jane is the VP of Marketing. Patrick did not disclose his relationship to Jane to his employer because he wanted to work on the Assessment Team and did not think Jane was aware of his job. Which of the following was the most appropriate course of action for Patrick?

- A. Disclose the potential conflict of interest to his employer before being assigned to the assessment.
- B. Do not disclose the relationship since Jane likely wasn't aware of what he did for work.
- C. Recuse himself without explanation.
- D. Follow the specific conflict-of-interest policies at his company.

正解: A

解説:

Comprehensive and Detailed in Depth Explanation:

The CoPC requires disclosure of familial COIs to ensure objectivity, making Option C the most appropriate.

Option A (recusing without explanation) lacks transparency. Option B (not disclosing) violates CoPC. Option D (following policies) is vague and secondary to disclosure.

* Paragraph 2.2 - Objectivity (pg. 5): "Disclose potential conflicts of interest, such as familial relationships, to the employer before assignment." References:

質問 # 65

An OSC has provided its System Security Plan (SSP) as evidence for several CMMC practices related to system security. During your examination of the SSP, you discover a section outlining procedures for user access controls. However, upon further review, you find no mention of procedures for managing privileged accounts, which is a critical aspect of secure system access. If the OSC provides a separate document outlining privileged account management procedures, and upon review, these procedures appear sufficient, how should the Lead Assessor proceed with the SSP as evidence?

- A. Mark the related user access control practice as "Not Met" due to the initial deficiency in the SSP.
- B. Deduct points from the overall assessment score due to the initial oversight in the SSP.
- C. Accept both the SSP and the separate document as evidence and proceed with the assessment.
- D. Request that the OSC formally incorporate the privileged account management procedures into the SSP for consistency.

正解: C

解説:

Comprehensive and Detailed in Depth Explanation:

The CAP allows multiple artifacts to support a practice, provided they collectively demonstrate compliance. If the separate document sufficiently addresses privileged account management, it complements the SSP, and both can be accepted (Option B). Option A (requesting incorporation) is not required during assessment and delays the process. Option C (deducting points) lacks CAP basis, as scoring depends on evidence sufficiency, not initial oversights. Option D (marking 'Not Met') is incorrect if the separate document meets requirements.

Extract from Official Document (CAP v1.0):

* Section 2.2 - Conduct Assessment (pg. 25): "Multiple artifacts may be used to demonstrate compliance with a practice, provided they collectively meet the assessment objectives." References:

質問 # 66

Jane is a CCA leading a CMMC assessment for an OSC. During the evaluation, Jane discovers that the OSC's Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) is a former colleague with whom she had a contentious relationship in the past. Unbeknownst to the OSC, Jane still harbors resentment toward the CISO due to their previous conflicts. As the assessment progresses, Jane becomes increasingly critical of the CISO's security practices, scrutinizing every detail and finding fault despite the OSC's best efforts to demonstrate compliance.

Given this scenario, how can a Certified CMMC Assessor's personal bias impact the assessment of the OSC?

- A. Assessor bias is not a concern in CMMC assessments
- B. Assessor bias can lead to an overly lenient evaluation of the OSC
- C. Personal bias may result in an unfairly harsh and critical assessment of the OSC
- D. Assessor bias has no effect on the assessment process and outcomes

正解: C

解説:

Comprehensive and Detailed in Depth Explanation:

The CMMC Assessment Process (CAP) warns that personal bias, like Jane's resentment, can skew evidence interpretation, leading to an unfairly harsh assessment. This negative bias contrasts with positive bias (Option D), which causes leniency. Jane's critical stance risks misrepresenting the OSC's compliance, undermining assessment integrity. Options A and B deny bias's documented impact, making Option C the correct answer per CAP.

質問 # 67

You are the Lead Assessor for a CMMC Assessment engagement with an OSC for CMMC Level 2. The OSC has provided you with their proposed CMMC Assessment Scope, which includes a network schematic diagram, their SSP, relevant policies, and organizational charts. During your review of the documentation, you notice they have excluded a subsidiary company's network and assets from the proposed CMMC Assessment Scope despite the subsidiary being involved in handling CUI related to federal contracts. During the review of the OSC's proposed CMMC Assessment Scope, you notice that the OSC has included assets and networks that are not involved in handling CUI or related to federal contracts. What should be your course of action?

- A. Proceed with the Assessment but exclude the irrelevant assets and networks from the actual assessment process.
- B. Terminate the Assessment engagement due to the OSC's failure to establish an accurate CMMC Assessment Scope.
- C. Accept the proposed scope as is, since the OSC has the initial responsibility to establish the CMMC Assessment Scope.
- D. Request the OSC to remove the irrelevant assets and networks from the proposed scope.

正解: D

解説:

Comprehensive and Detailed in Depth Explanation:

The OSC is responsible for initially defining the CMMC Assessment Scope, but the Lead Assessor must ensure its accuracy, including only assets and networks handling CUI or related to federal contracts. Including irrelevant assets inflates the scope unnecessarily, while excluding the subsidiary's relevant assets risks an incomplete assessment. Option A (accepting as is) neglects the Lead Assessor's duty to validate scope. Option B (termination) is premature without attempting correction. Option D (proceeding with exclusions) bypasses OSC agreement, which CAP requires. Option C (requesting removal) ensures the scope is corrected collaboratively, aligning with CAP guidelines.

Extract from Official Document (CAP v1.0):

* Section 1.4 - Define Assessment Scope (pg. 13): "The OSC has the initial responsibility to establish the CMMC Assessment Scope... The Lead Assessor shall request adjustments to the proposed scope to ensure its accuracy and validity." References: CMMC Assessment Process (CAP) v1.0, Section 1.4.
