NEW QUESTION # 100

A financial services company has implemented always-on outbound campaigns for three credit card offers:

Standard card, Rewards card, and Rewards Plus card. The marketing team observes that customers who are qualified for multiple actions receive different numbers of offers, depending on the configuration of the volume constraint mode. To optimize customer engagement, the system administrator must choose between constraint modes.

Which volume constraint mode ensures that customers receive all actions for which they qualify, provided the actions do not reach volume limits?

- A. Return any action that does not exceed constraint
- B. As a group for the context (output all actions)
- C. Sequential action delivery mode
- D. Individually for each action

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 101

NEW QUESTION # 102

U+ Bank wants to use Pega Customer Decision Hub to display a credit card offer, the Standard Card, to every customer who logs in to the bank website. What three of the following artifacts are mandatory to implement this requirement? (Choose Three)

- A. Real-time containers.
- B. An action and the associated web treatment.
- C. Customer engagement policies.
- D. A business structure.
- E. Customer contact policies.

Answer: A,B,D

Explanation:

To implement this requirement, you need to create an action and the associated web treatment, a real-time container, and a business structure. An action is a proposition that you want to present to a customer, such as a credit card offer. A treatment is the way you present the action to a customer, such as an image or a text message. A real-time container is a configuration that defines how to deliver actions and treatments to a specific channel, such as a website or a mobile app. A business structure is a hierarchy of business groups and business issues that organizes actions into meaningful categories.
