Salesforce Certified Slack Administrator Sample Questions (Q67-Q72):

NEW QUESTION # 67

As an Org Admin of a large Enterprise, you perform an annual channel cleanup exercise that includes archiving, deleting, and moving channels to an alternative workspace based on set criteria.

On average, there are around 1,000 channels that meet the criteria during this cleanup.

What is the most effective way to do this?

- A. Utilize bulk channel lifecycle management APIs.
- B. Use Slack's channel management tools.
- C. Request that each channel owner take action.
- D. Take action from each channel's settings.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Slack officially recommends for large-scale channel management:

"Use Slack's bulk channel management APIs (like `conversations.archive` and `conversations.rename`) to automate cleanup activities at scale." Manually using settings (C) or requesting owners' actions (D) is impractical for 1,000+ channels. Slack's standard UI tools (A) are efficient but not optimized for this volume compared to API automation.

NEW QUESTION # 68

A user with a claimed email domain tries to create a new workspace. The user is redirected to the Enterprise Grid org's workspace directory and is asked to join an existing workspace or contact the Grid Org Owners for more details.

True or False: Claiming relevant domains for your Enterprise ensures that all workspaces are subject to the organization's Grid policies, such as message retention, SSO/security settings, and eDiscovery/archiving.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: A

Explanation:

When you claim relevant domains for your Enterprise Grid organization:

"Any user with an email address matching a claimed domain who attempts to create a new workspace will be directed to join the Enterprise Grid organization, ensuring that all workspaces fall under centralized policies for security, compliance, and retention." This process prevents rogue or unmanaged workspaces and ensures consistent governance.

NEW QUESTION # 69

What are two triggers that can be used to launch a workflow using Workflow Builder? (Choose TWO)

- A. A new member joins the workspace.
- B. A keyword is used in a message.
- C. A new channel is created.
- D. A specific date and time.
- E. A new member joins a channel.

Answer: A,B

NEW QUESTION # 70

Moshi is a Workspace Owner on the Plus plan. John is leaving the company on Friday, and Moshi will be deactivating John's IdP account.

What does Moshi need to do to ensure that John won't have access to Slack?

- A. Deactivating the IdP account will automatically delete the Slack account that was bound to it via SSO.
- B. Activate "Just-in-Time" de-activations to automatically remove John and any users who are inactive for more than 14 days.
- C. Change the email, and reset the password. Changing the email will end John's Slack session.
- D. Check that the IdP supports de-provisioning via SCIM and that the connector app is installed and configured correctly.

Answer: D

Explanation:

To automatically manage user deactivation:

"If your Identity Provider supports SCIM provisioning, and it is correctly configured with Slack, user deactivation in the IdP will trigger automatic deactivation of the user's Slack account." SCIM ensures seamless deprovisioning. Just-in-Time deactivations (D) are not a Slack feature, and changing the email manually (A) is not secure or scalable.

(Reference: Slack Administration Study Guide - User Deprovisioning with SCIM)
