Network Appliance Implementation Engineer - Data Protection Exam Sample Questions (Q40-Q45):

NEW QUESTION # 40

Your customer wants to use tamper-proof Snapshot copies on a SnapMirror destination volume only.

You successfully created a SnapMirror relationship using a SnapMirror policy that contains the following rules:

□ After initializing, you are able to delete a daily Snapshot copy.

Which command did you need to modify to enable the tamper-proof Snapshot copies as specified in the policy?

- A. volume snaplock modify -privileged-delete
- B. volume modify -snapshot-locking-enabled
- C. vserver modify -snapshot-policy
- D. volume snapshot modify -expiry-time

Answer: B

Explanation:

Although the SnapMirror policy includes rules for retaining Snapshot copies, the ability to make them tamper-proof (i.e., locked) depends on enabling snapshot locking on the destination volume. You must explicitly run:

volume modify -volume <vol_name> -snapshot-locking-enabled true

Without this setting, SnapMirror-created Snapshot copies can still be deleted manually. Enabling snapshot-locking ensures that retention rules (like the 5-day daily rule in your policy) are enforced and Snapshots are immutable.
