Fortinet FCP - FortiSIEM 7.2 Analyst Sample Questions (Q32-Q37):

NEW QUESTION # 32

Which information can FortiSIEM retrieve from FortiClient EMS through an API connection?

- A. Host software versions
- B. FortiSIEM license
- C. Host login credentials
- D. ZTNA tags

Answer: D

Explanation:

FortiSIEM can retrieve ZTNA tags from FortiClient EMS through an API connection, enabling dynamic user and device classification for policy enforcement and incident response.

NEW QUESTION # 33

Refer to the exhibit.

Machine Learning - Train Configuration

▶ Run Mode: Local

▶ Task: Regression

▶ Algorithm: DecisionTreeRegressor

▼ Fields to use for Prediction:

- AVG(CPU Util)
- AVG(Memory Util)
- AVG(Sent Bytes64)
- AVG(Received Bytes64)

Field to Predict:

- AVG(CPU Util)
- AVG(Memory Util)
- AVG(Sent Bytes64)
- AVG(Received Bytes64)

▼ Train factor

0% 100% 30

The configuration shown in the exhibit is incorrect.

What must you change to allow this configuration to be successfully applied to FortiSIEM?

- A. Only one AVG type field must be selected under Fields to use for Prediction.
- B. Run Mode must be set to ML.
- C. The Train factor must be 70% or greater.
- D. The selection in Fields to use for Prediction and Field to Predict must match.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Run Mode is set to Local, which is not valid for training machine learning models in FortiSIEM. To apply this configuration correctly, the Run Mode must be set to ML, which enables proper model training and prediction using selected fields.

NEW QUESTION # 34

Which statement about thresholds is true?

- A. FortiSIEM uses global and per device thresholds for performance metrics.
- B. FortiSIEM uses only device thresholds for security metrics.
- C. FortiSIEM uses fixed, hardcoded global and device thresholds for all performance metrics.
- D. FortiSIEM uses only global thresholds for performance metrics.

Answer: A

Explanation:

FortiSIEM evaluates performance metrics against both global thresholds, which apply system-wide, and per-device thresholds, which can be customized for individual devices. This dual approach allows flexibility in monitoring while ensuring consistent baseline alerting.

NEW QUESTION # 35

Refer to the exhibit.

Run Mode: Local

Task: Regression FORTINET

Algorithm: DecisionTreeRegressor

Fields to use for Prediction:

- AVG(CPU Util)
- AVG(Memory Util)
- AVG(Sent Bytes64)
- AVG(Received Bytes64)

Field to Predict:

- AVG(CPU Util)
- AVG(Memory Util)
- AVG(Sent Bytes64)
- AVG(Received Bytes64)

What will happen when a device being analyzed by the machine learning configuration shown in the exhibit has a consistently high memory utilization?

- A. FortiSIEM will update the regression tables for memory utilization, and average sent and received bytes.
- B. FortiSIEM will lower the CPU utilization trigger requirement for CPU utilization.
- C. FortiSIEM will trigger an incident for high memory utilization.
- D. FortiSIEM will update the model with a higher memory utilization average value.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In the configuration shown, FortiSIEM uses Memory Util, Sent Bytes, and Received Bytes as input features to predict CPU Utilization via a regression model. If a device shows consistently high memory utilization, the model will incorporate that into its training data and update itself with a higher average value for memory utilization, influencing future CPU utilization predictions.

NEW QUESTION # 36

Refer to the exhibit.

Which two lookup types can you reference as the subquery in a nested analytics query? (Choose two.)

- A. Event Query
- B. LDAP Query
- C. SNMP Query
- D. CMDB Query

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

In FortiSIEM nested analytics queries, you can reference both CMDB Queries and Event Queries as subqueries. These allow correlation between CMDB data and event data for advanced detection use cases.
