PECB Certified ISO 45001 Lead Auditor Exam ISO-45001-Lead-Auditor Prüfungsfragen mit Lösungen (Q49-Q54):

49. Frage

An auditor has just completed an interview with a member of top management (TM), a highly experienced professional, but who has never worked within an ISO management system environment before.

They want to take the opportunity to ask the auditor about a number of management system requirements. As the interview has finished a little early, the auditor agrees.

Which three of the following auditor responses are correct?

- A. TM - Do we as top management have to write the organisation ' s OH and S objectives for the coming year? Auditor - Yes, you do.
- B. TM - Do we as top management have to ensure that the OH and S management system achieves its intended results? Auditor - No, you do not.
- C. TM - Do we as top management have to document responsibilities and authorities for relevant roles? Auditor - Yes, you do.
- D. TM - Do we as top management need to promote continual improvement? Auditor - Yes, you do.
- E. TM - Do we as top management have to determine the scope of our OH and S management system? Auditor - No, you do not.
- F. TM - Do we as top management need to ensure the resources necessary for the effective operation of the OHSMS are made available? Auditor - Yes, you do.
- G. TM - Do we as top management have to ensure processes are established for worker consultation and participation? Auditor - No, you do not.

- H. TM - Do we as top management have to write the OH and S policy statement? Auditor - Yes, you do.

Antwort: C,D,F

Begründung:

The three correct responses are A, B, and G .

A is correct because ISO 45001 Clause 5.3 requires top management to ensure that the responsibilities and authorities for relevant roles are assigned, communicated and understood at all levels within the organization , and that they are maintained as documented information . So if top management asks whether responsibilities and authorities for relevant roles have to be documented, the correct answer is yes .

B is correct because Clause 5.1 Leadership and commitment requires top management to ensure that the resources needed to establish, implement, maintain and improve the OH and S management system are available . Therefore, the auditor's "Yes, you do" is correct.

G is correct because Clause 5.1 also requires top management to promote continual improvement . This is stated directly as part of top management leadership and commitment responsibilities under ISO 45001.

Why the others are not correct:

* C is incorrect because top management does have to ensure that processes are established for consultation and participation of workers . Clause 5.4 makes this a requirement, so "No, you do not" is wrong.

* D is incorrect as written. Top management must establish, implement and maintain the OH and S policy, but ISO 45001 does not state that top management personally has to "write" it. The wording in the option is too specific and not how the standard states the requirement.

* E is incorrect because top management does have to ensure that the OH and S management system achieves its intended results. Clause 5.1 says this directly.

* F is incorrect because top management must ensure OH and S objectives are established and compatible with the strategic direction, but ISO 45001 does not require top management personally to "write" the objectives.

* H is incorrect because the organization must determine the scope under Clause 4.3 , and top management remains accountable for the OH and S management system. Saying "No, you do not" is not correct in this context.

Analysis of Options:

* A. Determining competence requirements:Incorrect. Competence requirements are primarily determined by management but may involve feedback from workers.

* F. Determining actions to eliminate hazards:Correct. Non-managerial workers' input is vital in identifying and eliminating workplace hazards (Clause 8.1.2).

52. Frage

An audit team leader prepares the audit plan for an initial Stage 2 certification audit. Which two of the following statements are false?

- A. The plan does not need to include the names of the senior managers.
- B. The audit team leader should present the plan to the auditee before the Stage 2 audit.
- C. The organisation should cancel staff leave during the audit.
- D. The organisation should review the audit plan for agreement.
- E. The audit team leader should plan to interview each employee.
- F. The audit team leader does not select the OHS audit team members.

Antwort: E,F

Begründung:

Comprehensive Detailed Explanation along with All ISO 45001 Audit Reference Analysis of Each Option:

A . The organisation should review the audit plan for agreement.

True.

According to ISO 45001 guidelines and ISO 19011 (Guidelines for Auditing Management Systems), it is standard practice for the auditee organization to review and agree to the audit plan to ensure clarity on scope, objectives, and processes.

Reference: ISO 19011:2018, Clause 6.3.2.

B . The audit team leader does not select the OHS audit team members.

False.

The audit team leader is responsible for selecting competent team members with the requisite expertise to evaluate the auditee's Occupational Health & Safety Management System (OHSMS). Selection is based on criteria such as knowledge of ISO 45001, auditing skills, and understanding of the industry.

Reference: ISO 19011:2018, Clause 5.4.2 and 6.3.1.

C . The audit team leader should plan to interview each employee.

False.

While employee interviews are an essential part of gathering evidence during an ISO 45001 audit, interviewing every employee is impractical and unnecessary. A representative sampling strategy is used to assess compliance across various levels and departments.

Reference: ISO 19011:2018, Clause 6.4.6.

D . The audit team leader should present the plan to the auditee before the Stage 2 audit.

True.

Presenting the audit plan to the auditee before the audit is essential to ensure all parties are informed and prepared for the audit. This practice is emphasized in ISO 19011 and supports transparency and effective audit execution.

Reference: ISO 19011:2018, Clause 6.3.3.

E . The organisation should cancel staff leave during the audit.

False.

ISO 45001 and related audit guidelines do not mandate the cancellation of staff leave during audits. While key personnel should be available, the audit team collaborates with the organization to plan around leave schedules to minimize disruption.

Reference: Not explicitly covered in ISO 45001 or ISO 19011; falls under planning discretion.

F . The plan does not need to include the names of the senior managers.

True.

While the audit plan should outline the scope, objectives, and methods, it does not specifically require the inclusion of senior managers' names unless they are directly involved in the audit.

Reference: ISO 19011:2018, Clause 6.3.2.

Key ISO Reference:

ISO 45001:2018, Clause 9.2 (Internal Audit Requirements).

53. Frage

During a second-party audit at a sawmill, you find that the OHSMS Manager conducted the hazard identification process. In the risk assessment report, hazards were listed as physical hazards, chemical hazards, biological hazards and psychosocial hazards, with the hazards categories as low medium and high to be addressed. The OHSMS Manager did not have an action plan for low and medium risks, saying that they ignored those. He stated that they brought in a health and safety consultant to advise on treatment for the high risks.

When interviewing the OHSMS Manager, the auditor presents a nonconformity relating to potential hazards in the factory. If the dust extraction system broke down. The OHSMS Manager said that. If that happened, the agreed planned action is that workers would put masks on.

Select one of the options for how the auditor should respond to this statement.

- A. Ask the OHSMS Manager to confirm that this action meets regulatory requirements for air purity.
- B. Seek evidence that the response action is both implemented and effective.
- C. Advise that the factory should cease its operations if the dust extraction equipment malfunctioned.
- D. Suggest that they should increase their maintenance checks.

Antwort: B

Begründung:

The auditor should assess whether the organization's planned action (using masks in case of dust extraction failure) is both implemented and effective. This aligns with ISO 45001 requirements to ensure that control measures are functional and meet the intended objectives.

Clause 8.1.2 (Hierarchy of Controls):

The use of PPE, such as masks, is considered a last resort in the hierarchy of controls. The organization must demonstrate that the measure is:

Implemented (e.g., PPE is available and workers are trained to use it).

Effective (e.g., masks provide adequate protection against dust).

Analysis of Options:

A. Advise that the factory should cease operations if the dust extraction equipment malfunctioned.

While ceasing operations may be a necessary control in extreme situations, it is not a practical or realistic recommendation unless a high-risk scenario cannot be otherwise managed.

B. Ask the OHSMS Manager to confirm regulatory compliance.

Regulatory compliance is important but does not fully address the requirement to ensure the action is effective.

C. Seek evidence that the response action is both implemented and effective.

This is the most appropriate response. The auditor must verify implementation and effectiveness to determine conformity.

D. Suggest increasing maintenance checks.

Maintenance is important for preventing equipment breakdowns, but this option does not address the immediate audit finding about the adequacy of response actions.

ISO Reference:

Clause 8.1.2: Emphasizes applying the hierarchy of controls effectively.

Clause 9.1.1: Requires monitoring and measuring controls to ensure effectiveness.
