NEW QUESTION # 167

Terraform can only manage resource dependencies if you set them explicitly with the `depends_on` argument.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: B

Explanation:

Terraform can manage resource dependencies implicitly or explicitly. Implicit dependencies are created when a resource references another resource or data source in its arguments. Terraform can infer the dependency from the reference and create or destroy the resources in the correct order. Explicit dependencies are created when you use the `depends_on` argument to specify that a resource depends on another resource or module.

This is useful when Terraform cannot infer the dependency from the configuration or when you need to create a dependency for some reason outside of Terraform's scope. References = : Create resource dependencies : Terraform Resource Dependencies Explained

You decide to move a Terraform state file to Amazon S3 from another location. You write the code below into a file called `backend.tf`.

Which command will migrate your current state file to the new S3 remote backend?

- A. `terraform refresh`
- B. `terraform push`
- C. `terraform state`
- D. `terraform init`

Answer: D

Explanation:

This command will initialize the new backend and prompt you to migrate the existing state file to the new location. The other commands are not relevant for this task.

NEW QUESTION # 169

Which command must you first run before performing further Terraform operations in a working directory?

- A. `terraform workspace`
- B. `terraform plan`
- C. `terraform import`
- D. `terraform init`

Answer: D

Explanation:

`terraform init` is the first command that should be run after writing a new Terraform configuration or cloning an existing one from version control. It initializes a working directory containing Terraform configuration files and downloads any required providers and modules. The other commands are used for different purposes, such as importing existing resources, switching between workspaces, generating execution plans, etc.

NEW QUESTION # 170

Which Terraform command checks that your configuration syntax is correct?

- A. terraform init
- B. terraform frnt
- C. terraform validate
- D. terraform show

Answer: C

Explanation:

The terraform validate command is used to check that your Terraform configuration files are syntactically valid and internally consistent. It is a useful command for ensuring your Terraform code is error-free before applying any changes to your infrastructure.
