NEW QUESTION # 214

When a corporate laptop is connected to the company network, it can reach external websites.

However, it cannot reach any internal websites, displaying the error message "Cannot reach this page." Which of the following should a technician configure?

- A. Subnet mask
- B. Default gateway
- C. DNS settings
- D. DHCP

Answer: C

Explanation:

If internal resources (such as intranet or internal apps) can't be accessed but external sites work, this often points to a DNS issue, where the system isn't resolving internal domain names correctly.

NEW QUESTION # 215

Which of the following is a reason for a company to use on-premises AI instead of cloud-based AI?

- A. Avoiding bias
- B. Avoiding hallucinations
- C. Appropriate use
- D. Data privacy

Answer: D

Explanation:

On-premises AI keeps all data local, giving the company full control and ensuring sensitive information never leaves the organization, which addresses strict data privacy requirements.

NEW QUESTION # 216

Recently, the number of users sharing smartphone passcodes has increased. The management team wants a technician to deploy a more secure screen lock method. Which of the following technologies should the technician use?

- A. Facial recognition
- B. Pattern lock
- C. Device encryption
- D. Multifactor authentication

Answer: A

Explanation:

Facial recognition leverages biometric characteristics unique to each user, offering stronger security than shared passcodes or easily observed pattern locks. It ensures that only the enrolled individual can unlock the device, reducing the risk of unauthorized access from shared codes.

NEW QUESTION # 217

A user is unable to use the latest version of an app on a legacy tablet. What is the most likely reason?

- A. The OS is end-of-life
- B. Space is inadequate
- C. MDM is blocking updates
- D. The tablet is infected with malware

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Older tablets may not support newer app versions due to incompatible or unsupported operating systems. App developers often drop support for outdated OS versions.

FromTravis Everett - CompTIA A+ All-in-One Exam Guide:

"When an app won't install on an older device, check the OS version. Most apps require a minimum OS level for compatibility and security."

NEW QUESTION # 218

A technician needs to install Windows 11 on a 4TB SSD. The company requires that the drive be partitioned with at least five primary partitions. Which of the following should the technician use? (Select two).

- A. GPT
- B. NTFS
- C. APFS
- D. MBR
- E. FAT16
- F. XFS

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

The correct answers are C. GPT and E. NTFS. The GUID Partition Table (GPT) partitioning scheme is required because it supports more than four primary partitions and disks larger than 2TB. Since the SSD is 4TB and requires at least five primary partitions, MBR is not suitable.

According to the Quentin Docter - CompTIA A+ Complete Study Guide, MBR is limited to four primary partitions and a maximum disk size of 2TB. GPT removes these limitations and is required for modern systems using UEFI firmware, including Windows 11. The Travis Everett & Andrew Hutz - All-in-One Exam Guide explains that Windows installations on large disks should use GPT in combination with NTFS, which is the preferred Windows file system due to its support for large files, permissions, encryption, and reliability features.

The Mike Meyers / Mark Soper Lab Manual clarifies that FAT16 cannot support large volumes, XFS is a Linux file system, and APFS is designed for Apple systems. None of these are appropriate for a Windows 11 installation.

Because the requirement involves disk size, partition count, and Windows compatibility, the correct combination is GPT for partitioning and NTFS for the file system, making C and E the correct answers.
