NEW QUESTION # 145

Which of the following is the integrated output that correctly reflects captured information agreed to by business analysts (BAs) and other stakeholders?

- A. Activity plan
- B. Confirmed elicitation results
- C. Concept model
- D. Business analysis information

Answer: B

Explanation:

The integrated output that correctly reflects captured information agreed upon by business analysts and other stakeholders is the "Confirmed elicitation results." This output is the culmination of the elicitation process where the information gathered is validated and agreed to be accurate and relevant, serving as a foundation for further analysis and decision-making. Reference: This answer is verified by the information found in the Business Analysis Body of Knowledge (BABOK) and discussions on the topic from credible sources related to the IIBA ECBA certification¹.

NEW QUESTION # 146

Establishing the design option that is appropriate to meet the enterprise's requirements is the purpose of which task?

- A. Define design options
- B. Analyze potential value and recommend solution
- C. Specify and model requirements
- D. Define requirements architecture

Answer: A

Explanation:

The task of defining design options involves identifying, exploring, and describing different ways of meeting the business need. This includes defining the solution approach, identifying opportunities to improve the business, allocating requirements across solution components, and representing design options that achieve the desired future state. It is about considering various possibilities that could be created (building), purchased (buying), or a combination of both, to satisfy the business need. Reference: The information is based on the BABOK Guide, specifically the section on 'Define Design Options' which outlines the purpose and activities involved in this task¹².
