Zscaler Digital Transformation Administrator Sample Questions (Q73-Q78):

NEW QUESTION # 73
Cross-Site Scripting (XSS) attacks are a type of injection, in which malicious scripts are injected into otherwise benign and trusted websites. XSS includes which of the following?

- A. Anonymizers
- B. Spyware Callback
- C. IRC Tunneling
- D. Cookie Stealing

Answer: D

Explanation:
Cross#Site Scripting enables attackers to run malicious JavaScript in a user's browser - often used to steal session cookies and hijack user sessions, a technique known as cookie stealing.

NEW QUESTION # 74
What is the ZIA feature that ensures certain SaaS applications cannot be accessed from an unmanaged device?

- A. Out-of-band Application Access
- B. SaaS Application Access
- C. Identity Proxy
- D. Tenant Restriction

Answer: D

Explanation:
Tenant Restrictionis the ZIA feature that enforces access control policies to prevent access to certain SaaS applications from unmanaged or non-compliant devices. This ensures that only authorized and managed devices can access sensitive corporate SaaS resources, enhancing security posture.
The study guide highlights Tenant Restriction as an essential control for enforcing device compliance in SaaS access policies.

NEW QUESTION # 75
How does a Zscaler administrator troubleshoot a certificate pinned application?

- A. They could look at SSL logs for a failed client handshake.
- B. They could inspect the ZIA Web Policy.
- C. They could reboot the endpoint device.
- D. They could look into the SaaS application analytics tab.

Answer: A

Explanation:
Certificate pinning prevents SSL interception by validating a server's certificate against known values. When ZIA performs SSL inspection, it substitutes the certificate with one signed by Zscaler's CA. This causes the handshake to fail for pinned applications. To troubleshoot, an administrator shouldreview SSL logs to identify handshake failures, which indicate certificate pinning issues. Logs will show the TLS negotiation details, including any disruptions.

NEW QUESTION # 76
Which is an example of Inline Data Protection?

- A. Blocking the attachment of a sensitive document in webmail.

- B. Preventing the sharing of a sensitive document in OneDrive.
- C. Preventing the copying of a sensitive document to a USB drive.
- D. Analyzing a customer's M365 tenant for security best practices.

Answer: A

Explanation:
Inline Data Protection is the process of inspecting data as it transits the network in real time, enforcing policies that prevent sensitive data from being leaked or transmitted improperly. Blocking the attachment of a sensitive document in webmail represents inline data protection because it intercepts and controls data transmission at the network level, stopping sensitive content before it leaves the organization.
Preventing copying to a USB drive is endpoint control and does not happen inline in network traffic.
Preventing sharing in OneDrive is cloud access security broker (CASB) activity, often done through API integrations, not inline network control. Analyzing M365 tenant security is an audit or advisory activity, not real-time inline protection.
Therefore, the correct example of inline data protection in Zscaler's cloud security services is blocking the attachment of a sensitive document in webmail.

NEW QUESTION # 77
What does Advanced Threat Protection defend users from?

- A. Malicious active content
- B. Command injection attacks
- C. Large iFrames
- D. Vulnerable JavaScripts

Answer: A

Explanation:
Advanced Threat Protection (ATP) defends users from malicious active content, which includes malware, exploit kits, malicious scripts, and other forms of active content designed to compromise user systems. ATP employs multiple techniques such as sandboxing, malware scanning, and threat intelligence to detect and block these threats before they reach the user.
