Salesforce Certification Preparation for Advanced Administrator Sample Questions (Q159-Q164):

NEW QUESTION # 159

Cloud Kicks users need to link multiple Case records to multiple Outcome records stored in a custom object.

Any user that can view the Case record must be able to create a link. The administrator creates a Case Outcome custom object. What is the recommended option to use when adding a field to Case Outcome?

- A. Master-detail relationship with Read/Write sharing setting
- B. Master-detail relationship with Read-Only sharing setting
- C. Lookup relationship with Read/Write sharing setting
- D. Lookup relationship with Ready-Only sharing setting.

Answer: C

Explanation:

A lookup relationship with Read/Write sharing setting is the recommended option to use when adding a field to Case Outcome custom object. A lookup relationship is a type of relationship that links two objects together and allows users to associate one record with another. A lookup relationship does not affect the security or deletion of either record and can be optional or required. In this case, you can create a lookup relationship field on Case Outcome object that references Case object and allows users to link multiple Case records to multiple Case Outcome records. You can also set the sharing setting for the lookup field to Read/Write, which means that users who have access to the parent record can also access and edit the child record. References:

NEW QUESTION # 160

AW Computing created new multi-tier service plans. The primary difference between the packages is the length of the term. The company wants to capture start and end dates for each service plan sold, which can differ from the contract dates of the subscription. How should an administrator ensure the data is captured properly?

- A. Build a validation rule on the Opportunity object to require custom date fields based on the product(s) selected.
- B. Make a validation rule on the Opportunity Product object to require custom date fields based on the product family.
- C. Configure formula fields to reflect the close date of the opportunity.
- D. Create a new price book for service plans with term lengths.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Make a validation rule on the Opportunity Product object to require custom date fields based on the product family is how the administrator should ensure the data is captured properly. A validation rule is a way to enforce data quality and integrity
