IIBA Entry Certificate in Business Analysis (ECBA) Sample Questions (Q186-Q191):

NEW QUESTION # 186

What skill is required by a business analyst (BA) to understand how the people, processes, and technology within an organization interact, to understand the enterprise from a holistic point of view?

- A. Systems thinking

- B. Conceptual thinking
- C. Creative thinking
- D. Problem solving

Answer: A

Explanation:

Systems thinking is a crucial skill for business analysts as it enables them to view the enterprise in a holistic manner. This approach helps BAs understand the complex interactions between people, processes, and technology within an organization. It involves recognizing patterns and interrelationships and considering how different systems work together and influence one another within the whole. By applying systems thinking, BAs can better comprehend the broader impacts of any changes to one part of the system on the entire organization. Reference: The BABOK Guide outlines the importance of systems thinking as a competency for business analysts, emphasizing its role in understanding the enterprise from a holistic perspective¹².

NEW QUESTION # 187

Which of the following is an activity that a business analyst (BA) performs to prepare for elicitation?

- A. Trace requirements
- B. Secure supporting material
- C. Analyze performance measures
- D. Assess risk

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 188

Which technique is used by business analysts (BAs) to measure the quality of requirements?

- A. Acceptance and Evaluation Criteria
- B. Entity Relationship Modelling
- C. Risk Analysis and Management
- D. Key Performance Indicators

Answer: A

Explanation:

Acceptance and evaluation criteria define the specific conditions that must be met for a requirement to be accepted by stakeholders. These criteria help ensure that the requirements are clear, complete, and testable, thereby measuring their quality.

NEW QUESTION # 189

Which of the following approaches is used to determine how business analysis data will be packaged and communicated to stakeholders?

- A. Information Management Approach
- B. Governance Approach
- C. Stakeholder Engagement Approach
- D. Business Analysis Approach

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Information Management Approach is used to determine how business analysis information will be structured, stored, and maintained. It outlines the processes for managing the flow of information between stakeholders and ensures that the information is communicated in a clear, concise, and accessible manner. This approach is essential for ensuring that stakeholders have the right information at the right time to make informed decisions.

NEW QUESTION # 190

How does mindset contribute to delivering value in business analysis?

- A. By ensuring processes are predictable and repeatable for all situations.
- B. By minimizing complexity through implementation of standardized tools and techniques.
- C. By focusing on predefined outcomes and reducing dependency on flexibility.
- D. By enabling professionals to tailor their approach to the unique needs of each context.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The correct answer is D. In business analysis, mindset is not about mechanically applying one fixed process.

A strong business analysis mindset helps the professional understand the context, stakeholder needs, constraints, risks, and value expectations, then tailor the approach accordingly. This is especially important because business analysis may occur in predictive, adaptive, or hybrid environments. Option A is too rigid because standardized techniques are useful only when appropriate to the situation. Option B is incorrect because business analysis often requires flexibility as needs and information evolve. Option C is also wrong because no single repeatable process fits every business context. Value is delivered when the analyst chooses techniques, communication, and analysis depth based on the actual situation.
