NEW QUESTION # 21

You are attempting to add a new ONTAP 9.7 node to your ONTAP 9.8 NetApp cluster. After attempting to add the node, the operation fails as shown in the exhibit.

```

All nodes in the cluster should be running the same software version before a node is added. To attempt the join anyway, use the "-allow-mixed-version-join" parameter. Resolve the issue, then try the |

3 entries were displayed.

What are two nondisruptive ways to add the new node to your ONTAP cluster? (Choose two.)

- A. Upgrade the new node from ONTAP 9.7 to ONTAP 9.8.
- B. Add the node using the -allow-mixed-version-join parameter.
- C. Revert the cluster from ONTAP 9.8 to ONTAP 9.7.
- D. Re-initialize all the nodes in the ONTAP cluster with ONTAP 9.7.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

ONTAP clusters require that all nodes run the same ONTAP version before a node can join the cluster under normal conditions. The exhibit clearly indicates that the join operation failed because the cluster is running ONTAP 9.8 while the new node is running ONTAP 9.7, resulting in a mixed-version cluster restriction.

One nondisruptive solution is to upgrade the new node to ONTAP 9.8 before attempting to join it to the cluster. This approach aligns the software version of the new node with the existing cluster and fully complies with NetApp-supported installation procedures. It does not impact cluster availability and is the preferred long-term solution.

The second nondisruptive option is to use the `allow-mixed-version-join` parameter. ONTAP explicitly allows this method to temporarily permit a mixed-version cluster for the purpose of expansion or upgrade workflows.

This option is designed for controlled scenarios and allows the node to join without disrupting existing cluster operations. However, the mixed-version state is intended to be temporary and must be resolved by upgrading the remaining nodes.

Reverting the cluster or reinitializing all nodes would be disruptive and violate nondisruptive installation principles. Therefore, the correct answers are C and D.

NEW QUESTION # 22

You are setting up logical interfaces for client access. Which two types of LIFs are typically used to provide data access to NAS and SAN clients in ONTAP environments?

- A. Intercluster LIFs
- B. Data LIFs
- C. Cluster LIFs
- D. Management LIFs

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Data LIFs provide client access, while intercluster LIFs support replication traffic. Cluster and management LIFs serve internal communication and administration, not client data access.
