HPE Aruba Networking ClearPass Exam Sample Questions (Q31-Q36):

NEW QUESTION # 31

Which parameter is typically used in ClearPass to determine dynamic VLAN assignment for a user session?

Response:

- A. Authentication method used
- B. MAC address vendor
- C. Role-to-enforcement mapping
- D. Device hostname

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 32

A network engineer is tasked with creating enforcement profiles for a multi-vendor environment and wants to minimize the number of enforcement profiles they need to write. Which approach should the engineer take?

- A. Enable SNMP services on all network devices.
- B. Write separate enforcement profiles for each device vendor type.
- C. Utilize IETF attributes instead of vendor-specific attributes.

Answer: C

Explanation:

IETF Attributes (like Service-Type or Tunnel-Private-Group-ID) are standard RADIUS attributes that every vendor (Cisco, Aruba, Juniper) must support. Vendor-Specific Attributes (VSAs) are unique (e.g., an Aruba- User-Role won't work on a Cisco switch). By using IETF attributes for common tasks like VLAN assignment, an engineer can create a single Enforcement Profile that works across all hardware in the building, significantly reducing administrative overhead.

NEW QUESTION # 33

An IT technician is tasked with ensuring that the Network Access Device's (NAD) trust chain is properly configured on ClearPass. They select RadSec for the network device and observe that the PSK is automatically set to 'radsec'. What critical step should the technician take next to ensure secure communication?

- A. Reboot the network device to apply the RadSec configuration.
- B. Manually override the PSK field with a custom value.
- C. Verify that the NAD's trust chain is trusted on ClearPass.

Answer: C

Explanation:

RadSec (RADIUS over TLS) replaces the traditional MD5-based Pre-Shared Key (PSK) with a secure TLS tunnel. While the UI might show a placeholder "radsec" PSK, the actual security relies on Mutual Authentication via certificates. For the TLS handshake to succeed, ClearPass must trust the Certificate Authority (CA) that signed the NAD's certificate, and vice versa. Therefore, verifying that the NAD's trust chain is uploaded to the ClearPass Trust List is the most critical step for a successful connection.

NEW QUESTION # 34

Which ClearPass feature enables administrators to create custom policies for specific users or devices?

- A. Role Mapping
- B. Access Control Lists (ACLs)
- C. Policy Manager
- D. Device Profiling

Answer: C

Explanation:

The ClearPass Policy Manager allows administrators to create customized policies for specific users, devices, and groups.

NEW QUESTION # 35

Where in ClearPass can administrators define which posture attributes are checked during an OnGuard health evaluation?

Response:

- A. Posture Policies within Health Configuration
- B. Guest Operator Profile Editor
- C. Onboard Settings > Certificate Policy
- D. Access Tracker > Posture Logs

Answer: A
