Benefits in Obtaining Salesforce JavaScript-Developer-I Certification

With the introduction of the Lightning Experience by Salesforce, it is possible to develop cool, looking applications for a wide range of tasks. Admins have been able to create beautiful pages for their objects more than ever, with an interface entirely tailored for each user. For developers, the same application has never before been possible for Salesforce developers to create applications that stretch well beyond Salesforce's declarative features. It's all achieved with the use of a JavaScript application for Lightning & Lightning Web components.

The certification for JavaScript Developer I has just been released and fills a large gap in the certification list for Salesforce. Salesforce Developers who want to prove their Lightning skills, but also new entrants into the Salesforce community, are certified to demonstrate that they know what is relevant. A typical Salesforce 60 multi-choice test is split into two parts and is influenced by a super badge (Similar to Developer II certification).
