- B. 2 & 4
- C. 1 & 4
- D. 1 & 3

Statements 1 and 3 highlight the value and necessity for Architecture Governance to be adopted within organizations. Architecture Governance is the practice and orientation by which Enterprise Architectures and other architectures are managed and controlled at an enterprise-wide level<sup>12</sup>. It ensures that architectural decisions are aligned with the organization's strategy, objectives, and standards. Architecture Governance also involves establishing and maintaining processes, decision-making, and mechanisms to avoid or minimize potential conflicts of interest, such as between different stakeholders, business units, or projects<sup>34</sup>. Moreover, Architecture Governance requires transparency and accountability for all actions implemented and their decision support, so that they can be inspected and evaluated by authorized parties, such as auditors, regulators, or customers<sup>5</sup>. ### NEW QUESTION # 60

Which section of the TOGAF template for Architecture Principles should highlight the requirements for carrying out the principle?

- A. Name
- B. Statement
- C. Rationale
- D. Implications

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Implications section describes the impact of adhering to the principle on the organization, the processes, the information systems, and the technology<sup>23</sup>. It also identifies the changes, costs, and risks that may result from applying the principle<sup>23</sup>. The Implications section helps to communicate the benefits and consequences of the principle to the stakeholders and to guide the implementation and governance of the architecture<sup>23</sup>.

The other sections of the TOGAF template for Architecture Principles are<sup>1</sup>:

* Name: This section provides a short and memorable name for the principle that represents its essence and purpose<sup>23</sup>. The name should not mention any specific technology or solution<sup>23</sup>.

* Rationale: This section provides the reasoning and justification for the principle, explaining why it is important and how it supports the business goals and drivers<sup>23</sup>. The rationale should also link the principle to the higher-level enterprise or IT principles that it elaborates on<sup>23</sup>.

NEW QUESTION # 61

Consider the description.

The typical contents of the assessment include: an overview of project progress and status and project architecture/design.

Which form of assessment is described?

- A. Capability
- B. Organizational
- C. Risk
- D. Compliance

Answer: D

Explanation:

Within the TOGAF framework, assessments are used to ensure that architecture work is conformant with governance parameters. A compliance assessment (sometimes called architecture compliance or compliance review) is the evaluation of a project's architectural artifacts-its design, architecture decisions, progress status-against the established architecture standards, principles, and constraints. The content of a compliance assessment typically includes reviewing the project status, the architectural design alignment, and identifying non-compliance issues or deviations. Because it focuses on how well the project matches the architecture, rather than on capabilities, organizational structure, or risk per se, the described contents correspond to a compliance assessment. The compliance assessment helps governance bodies enforce architectural consistency and correct deviations during implementation.

NEW QUESTION # 62

What component of the Architecture Repository represents architecture requirements agreed with the Architecture Board?

- A. Architecture Capability
- B. Governance Log
- C. Reference Library

- D. Architecture Requirements Repository

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Architecture Requirements Repository stores all the requirements that are output of the architecture development cycle, as well as the requirements that are input to the architecture development cycle<sup>1</sup>. The Architecture Requirements Repository includes the following types of requirements<sup>1</sup>:

*Stakeholder Requirements: These are the high-level requirements and expectations of the stakeholders, derived from the business drivers, goals, and objectives. They are captured and refined in the Architecture Vision phase and the Requirements Management phase.

*Architecture Requirements: These are the detailed requirements that specify what the architecture must do or deliver to meet the stakeholder requirements. They are derived and refined in the Business, Information Systems, and Technology Architecture phases.

*Implementation and Migration Requirements: These are the detailed requirements that specify what the implementation and migration projects must do or deliver to realize the architecture. They are derived and refined in the Opportunities and Solutions and Migration Planning phases.

The Architecture Requirements Repository is used to manage the architecture requirements throughout the architecture lifecycle, ensuring their traceability, consistency, and compliance<sup>1</sup>. The Architecture Board is the authority that reviews and approves the architecture requirements, as well as the architecture deliverables and artifacts, as part of the architecture governance process<sup>2</sup>.
