Oracle Eloqua Marketing 2025 Implementation Professional Sample Questions (Q67-Q72):

NEW QUESTION # 67

Which of the following statements is true regarding custom objects in Oracle Eloqua?

- A. Custom objects are not accessible in the Eloqua Insight reporting module.
- B. A custom object can only have one record type.
- C. Custom objects cannot be used in Eloqua Campaign Canvas.
- D. A custom object can have relationships with other custom or standard objects.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In Oracle Eloqua, custom objects can establish relationships with other custom or standard objects. These relationships support data integration and facilitate advanced reporting and analysis. This capability allows users to build comprehensive and interconnected data models within Eloqua. Remember to check the official Oracle documentation and study materials for a more comprehensive understanding of the topics covered in the exam. Best of luck with your preparation!

NEW QUESTION # 68

Which data is typically captured and analyzed in closed-loop reporting?

- A. Social media engagement metrics
- B. Website traffic metrics
- C. Lead demographics and firmographics
- D. Email open and click-through rates

Answer: C

Explanation:

Closed-loop reporting involves capturing and analyzing lead data throughout the marketing and sales funnel. This includes information such as lead demographics (e.g., age, gender, location) and firmographics (e.g., company size, industry). By understanding the characteristics of converted leads, marketers can tailor their campaigns to target similar prospects and improve overall conversion rates.

NEW QUESTION # 69

What is the purpose of configuring contact and account views in Oracle Eloqua?

- A. To enable the synchronization of contact and account data with external systems
- B. To determine the layout and order of fields on contact and account records
- C. To limit access to certain contact and account data
- D. To track the history of changes made to contact and account records

Answer: B

Explanation:

Configuring contact and account views in Oracle Eloqua allows you to customize the layout and order of fields displayed on contact and account records. This helps to organize and prioritize the information according to your business needs.

NEW QUESTION # 70
