NEW QUESTION # 72

You are creating a new customer onboarding application. Documents are required from customers for verification and onboarding purposes. You need to store these documents within Appian.

Which two areas in Appian should you configure? (Choose two.)

- A. Feed
- B. Decision Object
- C. Knowledge Center
- D. Folder

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

In Appian, to store documents such as those required for customer onboarding, you should configure a Knowledge Center and within that, Folders. The Knowledge Center in Appian serves as the top-level container for storing and organizing documents and folders. Folders within a Knowledge Center provide a way to categorize and manage access to documents, making them an essential part of document management in Appian applications. Decision Objects and Feeds are not related to document storage.
