Salesforce Process Automation Accredited Professional Sample Questions (Q113-Q118):

NEW QUESTION # 113

The system needs to automatically mention the record owner in the record feed whenever an Opportunity record is Closed-Won. How can an Administrator accomplish this using Flow?

- A. By creating two flow directives, one for the record and another one for the feed item.
- B. By entering @[reference] in the input Message parameter, where reference is the ID for the record owner.
- C. By creating a temporary shadow record with system account as the owner and copying the lead item to original record.
- D. By using the Assignment Element and setting the value to the record owner.

Answer: B

Explanation:

To automatically mention the record owner in the record feed when an Opportunity is Closed-Won, using the @[reference] syntax in the Message parameter of a Post to Chatter action in a Flow is effective. Here, "reference" should be replaced with the dynamic reference to the record owner's ID, allowing the Flow to tag the owner in a Chatter post dynamically. Reference: Salesforce Help - Automate Posts to Chatter Using Flow

NEW QUESTION # 114

Which three main categories can Flow elements be broken down into?

- A. Screen, logic, and actions.

- B. Logic, actions, and connectors.
- C. Guided visual processes, behind the scenes automation, and approval automations.
- D. Variables, choices, and stages.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Flow elements in Salesforce can be broadly categorized into three main types: Screen, Logic, and Actions. Screen elements are used to create user interfaces for collecting input or displaying information. Logic elements, such as decisions, loops, and assignments, define the flow's logic and control how the flow progresses. Actions elements are used to execute operations, such as creating, updating, or deleting records. Reference: Salesforce Help - Flow Element Reference

NEW QUESTION # 115

What can a record variable store?

- A. A set of field values of multiple records that have the same object type.
- B. A set of field values for a single record.
- C. A set of field values for a single record that are not marked as Global.
- D. A set of field values of multiple records that have multiple object types.

Answer: B

Explanation:

A record variable in Salesforce Flow is used to store a set of field values for a single Salesforce record. This allows the flow to manipulate data for that record, such as retrieving data from the record or updating the record with new values. Record variables are specific to one object type and facilitate the handling of individual records within a flow. Reference: Salesforce Help - Work with Record Variables in Flow

NEW QUESTION # 116

Administrator has seen an increased number of tickets logged by end reporting Flow errors. To analyze flows in the org, where should the Administrator to identify which Flows are causing the most errors?

- A. In Setup, type 'Queue' in the quick search menu and select 'Queues'.
- B. In Setup, go to Flows and select the 'Recently Viewed' List View.
- C. In Setup, go to Process Automation and select Automation Home.
- D. In Setup, go to Process Automation and select Paused Flow Interviews.

Answer: C

Explanation:

To analyze flows and identify which ones are causing the most errors, an Administrator should navigate to Automation Home in Setup. This section provides a centralized view of all automation tools, including Flows, and offers insights into the performance and errors associated with each flow, helping administrators to troubleshoot and optimize processes. Reference: Salesforce Help - Monitor and Troubleshoot Flows

NEW QUESTION # 117

An administrator wants to route an employee's time-off request to their manager for approval. Which tool should the administrator use?

- A. Process Builder
- B. Flow Builder
- C. Workflow Rules
- D. Approvals

Answer: D

Explanation:

For routing an employee's time-off request to their manager for approval, the best tool to use is Approvals. Salesforce Approvals provide a framework for defining approval processes, including specifying approvers, setting up approval steps, and determining the actions to take at each stage of the process. This tool is specifically designed to handle use cases involving approval workflows, making it well-suited for managing time-off requests. Reference: Salesforce Help Documentation on Approval Processes.
