NLN Nursing Entrance Exam (Math, Science and Verbal) Sample Questions (Q148-Q153):

NEW QUESTION # 148

Reading Comprehension

Passage:

Preventive screenings can identify health problems before symptoms develop. Early detection often leads to more effective treatment and better outcomes.

What is the benefit of preventive screenings?

- A. Reducing healthcare visits
- B. Avoiding medical treatment
- C. Eliminating disease entirely
- D. Identifying problems early

Answer: D

Explanation:

The passage emphasizes that preventive screenings allow health problems to be identified before symptoms appear. Option C accurately reflects this benefit. The other options are either incorrect or exaggerated. On the NEX exam, benefit questions often focus on early intervention and prevention themes.

NEW QUESTION # 149

Review the scatter plot of hours students studied for a test and their results.

What can you conclude from the graph?

- A. There is no relationship between hours studied and test scores.
- B. As hours studied increase, test scores tend to decrease.
- C. As hours studied increase, test scores tend to increase.

- D. Test scores are higher when no hours are spent studying.

Answer: C

Explanation:

This question tests interpretation of scatter plots and correlation. In the graph, the horizontal axis represents hours studied, and the vertical axis represents test scores. As the points move from left to right (indicating more hours studied), the points also tend to move upward (indicating higher test scores). This shows a positive relationship between the two variables. While not every point follows a perfect line, the overall trend clearly indicates that students who studied more hours generally achieved higher test scores. Option B correctly describes this positive correlation. Option A is incorrect because scores are not highest when no studying occurs. Option C is incorrect because there is a visible relationship. Option D describes a negative relationship, which is not shown. On the NEX exam, scatter plots are often used to test understanding of trends rather than exact values, so identifying the overall direction of the data is key.

NEW QUESTION # 150

Which of the following is the correct classification of a penny made only of copper?

- A. A homogeneous mixture of two elements
- B. A pure substance that is a compound
- C. A heterogeneous mixture of two compounds
- D. A pure substance that is an element

Answer: D

Explanation:

Copper is a chemical element, meaning it consists of only one type of atom. If a penny were made entirely of copper, it would be classified as a pure substance and specifically as an element. Compounds consist of two or more different elements chemically bonded together. Mixtures contain substances physically combined, not chemically bonded. Since the penny is composed of only copper atoms, it does not qualify as a mixture or a compound. The NEX Science exam frequently includes questions on classification of matter, requiring students to distinguish between elements, compounds, and mixtures. Therefore, option D is correct.

NEW QUESTION # 151

Reading Comprehension

Passage:

Hand hygiene is one of the most effective ways to prevent the spread of infection. Washing hands with soap and water removes many harmful microorganisms. When soap and water are not available, alcohol-based hand sanitizers can reduce the number of germs, though they are not effective against all pathogens.

Which statement is best supported by the passage?

- A. Hand sanitizers eliminate all microorganisms
- B. Soap and water are unnecessary if sanitizer is available
- C. Microorganisms cannot survive on hands
- D. Handwashing helps reduce the spread of infection

Answer: D

Explanation:

The passage emphasizes the importance of hand hygiene in preventing infection. It clearly states that washing hands with soap and water removes harmful microorganisms and that sanitizers can reduce germs when soap is unavailable. This supports the conclusion that handwashing helps reduce the spread of infection. Option C directly reflects this main idea. Option A is incorrect because the passage notes that sanitizers are not effective against all pathogens. Option B contradicts the passage, which presents soap and water as the most effective method. Option D is false because the passage acknowledges that germs can exist on hands. On the NEX exam, supported-detail questions require selecting an answer that accurately restates information from the passage without exaggeration or contradiction.

NEW QUESTION # 152

Word Knowledge

The word "minimize" most nearly means:

- A. Measure
- B. Reduce
- C. Balance
- D. Increase

Answer: B

Explanation:

Minimize means to reduce something to the smallest amount possible. Option C is the correct synonym. Understanding reduction-related vocabulary is important for NEX verbal success.
