Cisco Securing Email with Cisco Email Security Appliance Sample Questions (Q51-Q56):

NEW QUESTION # 51

Users have been complaining of a higher volume of emails containing profanity. The network administrator will need to leverage dictionaries and create specific conditions to reduce the number of inappropriate emails.

Which two filters should be configured to address this? (Choose two.)

- A. content
- B. spam
- C. sender group
- D. VOF
- E. message

Answer: A,E

Explanation:

Message filter and content filter are two filters that should be configured to address this issue. Message filter and content filter are rules that allow Cisco ESA to perform actions on messages based on predefined or custom conditions, such as headers, envelope, body, attachments, etc.

To reduce the number of inappropriate emails containing profanity, the network administrator can create a dictionary that contains a list of profane words or phrases and use it as a condition in a message filter or content filter that applies an action of "drop", "quarantine", or "modify subject" on the matching messages.

The other options are not valid filters to address this issue, because they do not use dictionaries or conditions based on message content.

NEW QUESTION # 52

An engineer must provide differentiated email filtering to executives within the organization. Which two actions must be taken to accomplish this task? (Choose two)

- A. Create content filters for actions to take on messages that contain specific data
- B. Define the default mail policies for incoming or outgoing messages
- C. Enable the content-scanning features you want to use with mail policies
- D. Upload a csv file containing the email addresses for the users for whom you want to create mail policies.
- E. Defining the default mail policies for incoming or outgoing messages is not sufficient, as default mail policies apply to all users and do not allow for differentiation based on user groups[4, p. 2].
- F. Define an LDAP group query to specify users to whom the mail policy rules apply.

Answer: A,F

Explanation:

Define an LDAP group query to specify users to whom the mail policy rules apply. This way, you can create a custom group of executive users and apply different mail policies to them based on their LDAP attributes[4, p. 2].

Create content filters for actions to take on messages that contain specific data. Content filters allow you to scan the message body and attachments for keywords, phrases, or patterns that match your criteria and perform actions such as quarantine, encrypt, or drop the message[4, p. 7].

The other options are not valid because:

C) Uploading a csv file containing the email addresses for the users for whom you want to create mail policies is not a supported feature of Cisco Secure Email.

D) Enabling the content-scanning features you want to use with mail policies is not necessary, as content scanning is enabled by default for all incoming and outgoing messages[4, p. 6].

NEW QUESTION # 53

What are two prerequisites for implementing undesirable URL protection in Cisco ESA? (Choose two.)

NEW QUESTION # 54

Which two factors must be considered when message filter processing is configured? (Choose two.)

- A. mail policies
- B. lateral processing
- C. message-filter order
- D. MIME structure of the message
- E. structure of the combined packet

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Message-filter order and MIME structure of the message are two factors that must be considered when message filter processing is configured on Cisco ESA. Message-filter order determines the sequence in which message filters are evaluated and applied to incoming messages, which can affect the final outcome of the filtering process. MIME structure of the message determines how message filters match against different parts of the message, such as headers, body, attachments, etc., which can affect the accuracy and performance of the filtering process.
