- * The switch is in its factory default state.
- * The engineer is connected to the switch via the console port.

Required Configuration:

- * Hostname: `ALS-01`
- * Admin Password: `Aruba!CX!2023`

ALS-01(config-if-vlan)# ip address 192.168.5.10/24
- C.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 57

What is the advantage of Multiple Spanning Tree Protocol (MSTP) over traditional STP?

- A. It requires fewer configuration changes in large networks.
- B. It supports load balancing across multiple instances.
- C. It can only be used in networks with a single VLAN.
- D. It has a slower convergence time than STP.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 58

Based on the example below:

What happens to the member status state if member 1 reboots?

- A. Member 2 becomes Conductor
- B. Member 3 becomes Conductor
- C. Member 2 becomes Standby
- D. Member 3 becomes Standby

Answer: A

Explanation:

The output shows member 1 is the Conductor and member 2 is the Standby. If the Conductor (member 1) reboots, the Standby takes over the control-plane role to maintain stack operation, so member 2 becomes the Conductor.

NEW QUESTION # 59

You have configured the following on a Core-1 HPE Aruba Networking CX switch for primary and secondary ISP connectivity:

Core-1(config)# ip route 0.0.0.0/0 10.1.251.2
```

Core-1(config)# ip route 0.0.0.0/0 10.1.252.2 distance 10

The default route via 10.1.251.2 stopped working, and no failover happened. The ISP reported a broken fiber on the path of an upstream device.

In what condition should the route failover to the 10.1.252.2 router?

- A. When the default route graceful-restart timer expires.
- B. When the uplink-failure-detection enables 10.1.252.2 route.
- C. When the BFD session terminates on 10.1.251.2.
- D. When the 10.1.251.2 is no longer in the routing table.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Static route failover occurs only when the preferred static route is removed from the routing table.

If the next hop 10.1.251.2 remains reachable at Layer 2/Layer 3 on the local link, the switch keeps the primary default route installed even if there is an upstream failure, so the secondary route is not selected until the primary route is no longer present in the routing table.

NEW QUESTION # 60

A network administrator is designing a network with a redundant path between two distribution switches. To prevent Layer 2 loops while allowing for fast failover, the administrator has enabled Rapid Spanning Tree Protocol (RSTP).

What is the primary advantage of using RSTP (802.1w) over the original Spanning Tree Protocol (STP, 802.1D)?

- A. RSTP allows all ports to forward traffic simultaneously by load balancing.
- B. RSTP supports more VLANs than STP.
- C. RSTP uses a more secure method for electing the root bridge.
- D. RSTP significantly reduces the convergence time after a link failure.

Answer: D
