Google Cloud Certified - Generative AI Leader Exam Sample Questions (Q44-Q49):

NEW QUESTION # 44

The office of the CISO wants to use generative AI (gen AI) to help automate tasks like summarizing case information, researching threats, and taking actions like creating detection rules. What agent should they use?

- A. Security agent
- B. Customer service agent
- C. Data agent
- D. Code agent

Answer: A

Explanation:

Given the tasks involve researching threats and creating detection rules, the most appropriate and specialized agent would be a Security agent. This type of agent would be pre-configured or easily adaptable to understand security-specific contexts, data, and actions within a CISO's domain.

NEW QUESTION # 45

A national bank is overwhelmed by customer inquiries across multiple channels and needs an AI- powered solution to provide seamless, consistent support, empower customer support agents, and improve service quality. What Google Cloud product should the bank use?

- A. Gemini for Google Workspace
- B. Vertex AI Search
- C. Gemini for Google Cloud
- D. Google Contact Center as a Service

Answer: D

Explanation:

The bank's requirement is for a solution that provides seamless, consistent support across multiple channels and helps to empower customer support agents and improve service quality.

This describes the need for a comprehensive, end-to-end customer service infrastructure. Google Contact Center as a Service (CCaaS) is the full, cloud-native contact center solution offered by Google Cloud (part of the Customer Engagement Suite). It is specifically designed to unify customer interactions across various channels (phone, chat, web messaging) and provides the necessary infrastructure for routing, managing agent workflows, and ensuring a consistent and secure customer experience at scale. This solution goes beyond simply automating a chatbot.

NEW QUESTION # 46

A large company is creating their generative AI (gen AI) solution by using Google Cloud's offerings. They want to ensure that their mid-level managers contribute to a successful gen AI rollout by following Google-recommended practices. What should the mid-level managers do?

- A. Create a robust data strategy to ensure teams can access high-quality, relevant data that is appropriate for training and fine-tuning gen AI models.
- B. Secure funding and resources for AI initiatives by demonstrating the potential return on investment to the chief financial officer (CFO).
- C. Perform continuous testing, measurement, and refinement based on user feedback and real- world performance data.
- D. Drive gen AI adoption by identifying high-impact, feasible solutions that address specific challenges within their workflows.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Google's recommended strategy for a successful generative AI rollout involves a combination of top-down strategic alignment and bottom-up adoption. In this structure, the role of the mid-level manager is critical for driving tangible value within their specific domain.

NEW QUESTION # 47

A consumer electronics manufacturer is selecting a cloud platform to support an eight to twelve year roadmap for generative AI. Executives want a provider recognized for foundational AI breakthroughs that quickly become integrated services and purpose-built infrastructure. Which inherent strength of Google Cloud best aligns with these goals?

- A. A global private fiber network footprint
- B. Google's enduring "AI-first" culture and long record of foundational AI breakthroughs
- C. A diverse portfolio of data storage services
- D. A large Cloud Marketplace catalog of partner solutions

Answer: B

Explanation:

This choice aligns with an eight to twelve year generative AI roadmap because Google consistently turns cutting edge research into widely available capabilities. Breakthroughs from Google Research become integrated services in Google Cloud such as managed model training, tuning, and deployment on Vertex AI. The company also builds purpose built infrastructure like Cloud TPU that is engineered for large scale training and inference. This pattern of research leadership that rapidly becomes productized gives organizations confidence that future advances in models, tooling, and hardware will arrive as usable cloud services.

NEW QUESTION # 48

A nationwide retail chain plans to retire its aging on premises contact center stack and move to a cloud first model that uses AI throughout customer interactions. The company requires a single enterprise ready foundation that unifies telephony, IVR, conversational virtual agents, and real time agent assist features while scaling globally as call volumes grow. Which Google Cloud solution best fits this fully managed end to end contact center platform need?

- A. Vertex AI Agent Builder
- B. Google Voice
- C. Google Cloud Contact Center as a Service (CCaaS)
- D. Dialogflow CX

Answer: C

Explanation:

This fully managed solution provides a single enterprise ready foundation that unifies telephony, IVR, conversational virtual agents built with Dialogflow CX, and real time Agent Assist. It is designed to scale globally as call volumes grow and to deliver reliability, security, and compliance while reducing the need to stitch together multiple products.
