- A. attending a state-level professional counseling conference
- B. practicing cultural competence when meeting with clients
- C. providing pro bono counseling services at a small organization

Answer: A

Explanation:

Attending a state-level professional counseling conference is an example of professional advocacy. Professional advocacy also includes lobbying for the profession, involvement in professional organizations, and participating in policy-making that affects counselors and clients.

NEW QUESTION # 142

What is the difference between a cognitive distortion and an irrational belief in cognitive behavioral therapies?

- A. Cognitive distortions and irrational beliefs are relatively the same concept within cognitive behavioral therapies that have no meaningful distinctions between them
- B. Irrational beliefs are momentary thought patterns that influence our thoughts and feelings, whereas cognitive distortions are deeply ingrained thought patterns that influence our behaviors.
- C. Cognitive distortions are specific thoughts patterns that skew a person's perception of reality, whereas irrational beliefs are generalized and deeply held false assumptions about oneself.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Cognitive distortions are specific, systematic errors in thinking that lead to inaccurate perceptions (e.g., catastrophizing, overgeneralization). Irrational beliefs, as described in Rational Emotive Behavior Therapy (REBT), are deeply held, global, and unrealistic assumptions about oneself, others, or the world (e.g., "I must be loved by everyone to be worthwhile"). While both are central to cognitive behavioral therapies, cognitive distortions are seen as habitual faulty thought patterns, whereas irrational beliefs are more generalized and fundamental in shaping one's worldview.
