ASET Ethics Examination-ASET Professional Practice Exam (PPE) Sample Questions (Q70-Q75):

NEW QUESTION # 70

Which of the following types of members would be exempt from ASET's Continuing Professional Development Program?

- A. Self-employed members
- B. Retired members
- C. New members
- D. Association Council members

Answer: B

Explanation:

The ASET Continuing Professional Development (CPD) program exists to ensure that practicing technologists continuously update their technical skills to protect public safety and welfare.

Consequently, anyone actively providing engineering or applied science technology services-whether they are newly minted members (Option A), self-employed consultants (Option C), or even members sitting on the ASET Council (Option D)-must complete their mandatory CPD hours to remain competent in the current technological landscape. The only permanent exception to this rule is for Retired members. When a professional officially transitions to a "Retired" membership status with ASET, they legally declare that they have ceased all professional practice and are no longer offering technical services to the public or employers. Because they are no longer practicing, their potentially outdated skills do not pose a risk to public safety. Therefore, ASET formally exempts them from the ongoing CPD requirement while allowing them to maintain their honorary connection to the profession.

NEW QUESTION # 71

Under which jurisdiction does the Environmental Protection Act fall?

- A. Municipal law
- B. International law
- C. Federal law
- D. Provincial law

Answer: D

Explanation:

In Canada, environmental regulation is a matter of shared constitutional jurisdiction, meaning both the federal and provincial governments have authority over different aspects of the environment. However, when referencing general "Environmental Protection Acts" that directly govern local industrial operations, land use, localized emissions, waste management, and resource extraction, these fall primarily under Provincial law. For example, in Alberta, the primary overarching environmental statute is the Environmental Protection and Enhancement Act (EPEA). Each province has its own equivalent Environmental Protection Act tailored to its specific regional resources and industries.

While the federal government does enforce the Canadian Environmental Protection Act (CEPA), which targets toxic substances of national concern and interprovincial/international pollution, the day-to-day regulatory compliance, site assessments, and localized environmental permitting that most ASET technologists interact with are strictly governed and enforced under provincial jurisdiction.

NEW QUESTION # 72

A regulated member of ASET is considering selling materials purchased to prepare for the ASET Professional Practice Exam. The exam materials include textbooks and questions copied from ASET's practice exam.

Which of the following is the member's course of action in this situation?

- A. Do not sell any of the exam materials.
- B. Sell only the practice exam questions.
- C. Sell only the textbooks.
- D. Sell all of the exam materials.

Answer: C

Explanation:

This scenario involves intellectual property rights, copyright law, and professional integrity. Textbooks purchased for studying are generally the personal property of the buyer (the physical copy, not the copyright of the text) and can be legally resold on the secondary market under the "first-sale doctrine." Therefore, selling the textbooks is perfectly ethical and legal. However, practice exam questions created and distributed by ASET are the exclusive intellectual property of the regulatory association and are protected by copyright. They are often provided under a strict user agreement intended for personal study only. Copying, reproducing, distributing, or selling ASET's proprietary exam questions is an act of copyright infringement and intellectual property theft. For a regulated professional to engage in such behavior is a severe breach of the ASET Code of Ethics, which mandates members act with integrity and uphold the law. Thus, the member must only sell the textbooks and destroy or keep the copied exam materials.

NEW QUESTION # 73

Which of the following statements about Continuing Professional Development (CPD) programs is true?

- A. Associations should have a voluntary program of CPD activities.
- B. There is no need to report and record CPD activities.
- C. Associations should have a mandatory program of CPD activities.
- D. Associations should conduct a practice review of a large sample of members.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The fundamental justification for the existence of professional regulatory bodies like ASET is the protection of the public. Because technology, codes, safety standards, and engineering practices evolve at a rapid pace, a professional's knowledge can quickly become obsolete. An obsolete professional is an incompetent professional, and an incompetent professional poses a severe risk to public safety.

Therefore, a purely "voluntary" CPD program (Option B) is insufficient, as it allows complacent individuals to fall behind. To fulfill their statutory mandate, professional associations must implement a mandatory program of CPD activities (Option C). This requirement ensures that every single regulated member actively maintains, upgrades, and broadens their technical and ethical competency throughout their entire career. Compliance must be tracked, reported, and audited (contradicting Option A) to ensure that the public can continually trust the protected designations (like C.Tech. and C.E.T.) to represent current, safe, and effective professional practice.

NEW QUESTION # 74

Which of the following boards or committees is responsible for appointing members to the ASET Discipline Committee?

- A. The ASET Appeal Board
- B. The ASET Practice Review Board
- C. The ASET Council
- D. The ASET Discipline Committee

Answer: C

Explanation:

The corporate and regulatory structure of ASET is governed by the Engineering and Geoscience Professions Act (EGPA). The ASET Council functions as the ultimate governing body or "board of directors" for the association. As part of its statutory duty to manage the affairs of the profession and ensure the protection of the public, the ASET Council is granted the legal authority and responsibility to strike and populate the various statutory committees required by the Act. This includes formally appointing the qualified professional members and overseeing the government-appointed public members who sit on the Investigative Committee, the Practice Review Board, and the Discipline Committee. The Discipline Committee does not appoint itself (Option D), nor is it appointed by the Appeal Board (Option B). The Council ensures that the Discipline Committee is composed of experienced, impartial professionals capable of conducting fair, quasi-judicial hearings regarding member misconduct.
