dbt Labs dbt Analytics Engineering Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q68-Q73):

NEW QUESTION # 68

You're collaborating on a project where team members have varying levels of dbt experience. How can you use the `dbt_project.yml` to help standardize practices?

- A. Set up pre-commit hooks within the project file to enforce linting and formatting rules.
- B. Define custom macros in the project file to encapsulate commonly used SQL patterns.
- C. Configure project-level tests to ensure adherence to data quality standards.

- D. Include a docs: section with detailed descriptions of core models and transformations.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Project-level tests in `dbt_project.yml` provide a centralized way to maintain data quality expectations across the team.

NEW QUESTION # 69

(Multiple Select)

- A. You detect a frequently-used, non-trivial SQL transformation pattern across multiple models.
- B. Your data warehouse has a non-standard SQL function used in various reporting dashboards.
- C. You need to perform data type conversions for a specific set of columns.
- D. You have a very simple filter that is applied to just a small subset of models.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Macros shine in encapsulating recurring complex logic and providing a convenient interface for database-specific functionality. Simple filters might not justify the overhead of a macro.

NEW QUESTION # 70

You get a warning during dbt run: WARNING: Found 100 rows in 'stg_customers' that will become duplicates in the 'dim_customers' target.

- A. Increase the memory allocated for the database to handle the large number of duplicates.
- B. Update the `stg_customers` source definition to include filtering logic to remove duplicate rows.
- C. It's safe to ignore this warning, as de-duplication is handled automatically by dbt.
- D. Investigate your `dim_customers` modeling logic to ensure a unique key is correctly used to prevent duplicates.

Answer: D

Explanation:

This typically indicates a logic flaw in your model creating the target table. Modifying the source or increasing memory won't resolve the core issue.

NEW QUESTION # 71

Your stakeholders require robust data visualization and dashboarding capabilities beyond what dbt itself offers. Which of the following would be good pairings with dbt to address this need?

- A. Version control systems (e.g., Git)
- B. Spreadsheet software (like Excel or Google Sheets)
- C. Data observability platforms
- D. Modern BI tools (like Tableau, Looker, Power BI)

Answer: D

Explanation:

Modern BI tools specialize in taking transformed data from dbt and creating rich, interactive visualizations and dashboards for end-users. The other options have their places in the data stack, but not for primary dashboarding.

NEW QUESTION # 72

You've included some custom visualizations within your dbt project documentation (e.g., network graphs) but notice they don't render correctly when the site is generated. What might be the cause?

- A. Custom visualizations are not directly supported by dbt's built-in documentation.
- B. The dbt docs generate command has a strict limit on the file size of visualizations it can process-

- C. Your visualization definitions haven't been configured correctly in the project YAML files
- D. Custom visualizations usually require additional JavaScript libraries to be included.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

A: Custom visualizations often rely on external libraries that need to be included in the generated HTML for them to function. B: Some visualizations might require specific settings in your dbt_project.yml or model files for correct rendering.
