Appian Senior Developer Sample Questions (Q41-Q46):

NEW QUESTION # 41
You need to create a web API so that an external system can start a process in your app.
Which two statements are true about using a service account to authenticate the system? (Choose two.)

- A. The service account must be granted access to that web API via group management.
- B. The service account must be configured from within the web API object.
- C. The service account must be a user in the Service Accounts group.
- D. The service account is created as any other object in Appian.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:
The service account must be granted access to the web API, typically via group management, to allow authenticated calls.
The service account must be a user in the Service Accounts group to be used for authentication in integrations such as web APIs.

NEW QUESTION # 42
You're designing a file upload process that integrates with an external document management system.
Part of this process is to develop a start form with a file upload component, so that the user can upload multiple files.
The business has requested that the maximum file size that can be uploaded through this process is 1GB.
Additionally, you're aware that the integration's API can accept files with a maximum file size of 3GB, but recommends no larger than 1GB.
Can the process be more performant without straining the application or integration?

- A. Yes. Request the business allows for these files to be uploaded as an overnight process by storing large files in a staging table, so that adequate resources are available.
- B. Yes. Request the business reconsiders its requirements and find manual workarounds as it is not recommended to upload files of this size in both Appian and the integration.
- C. No. The file upload component is capable of accepting 1 GB files and the integration can handle this.

Answer: A

Explanation:
While Appian and the integration technically support 1 GB file uploads, handling such large files during interactive sessions can negatively impact application performance, user experience, and resource utilization.
A better approach is to request that the business allow these files to be uploaded asynchronously (e.g., overnight batch process), by temporarily storing them (e.g., in a staging table or folder) and processing them when system load is lower. This makes the process more performant and reliable without straining Appian or the external system.

NEW QUESTION # 43
You're creating a support case record type while working on a support case management system. You want to track support case status changes.
You want to use record events to track this information.

Which record data source type is the most appropriate for you to use?

- A. Web service without data sync enabled
- B. Database source with data sync enabled
- C. Process Model source with data sync enabled

Answer: B

Explanation:
A database source with data sync enabled is required to use record events for tracking support case status changes, as Appian record events are only supported for synced record types with a database as the data source.

NEW QUESTION # 44
You need to create an expression rule that will be reused throughout your environment.
What are two reasons why you should include meaningful test cases when creating a new expression rule?
(Choose two.)

- A. To accelerate various types of testing, including: unit, regression, exploratory.
- B. To enhance the appearance of the code.
- C. To improve the performance of the environment.
- D. To facilitate Test-Driven Development.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:
Meaningful test cases accelerate different testing types by providing clear validation scenarios for the rule.
They support Test-Driven Development by enabling you to define expected outcomes before or during rule creation.

NEW QUESTION # 45
You're creating a process to update specific fields in a list of records and you save the updated records to the database.
You're given the following performance considerations:
Execution time
Process instance memory usage
Process execution engine load balancing
Based on these performance metrics, rank the options from best to worst.
Note: To answer, move all steps from the Options list to the Answer List area and arrange them in the correct ranking order (best at the top, and worst at the bottom).
