ISC Certified Cloud Security Professional Sample Questions (Q608-Q613):

NEW QUESTION # 608

From a security perspective, what component of a cloud computing infrastructure represents the biggest concern?

- A. Management plane
- B. Encryption
- C. Hypervisor
- D. Object storage

Answer: A

Explanation:

The management plane will have broad administrative access to all host systems throughout an environment; as such, it represents the most pressing security concerns. A compromise of the management plane can directly lead to compromises of any other systems within the environment. Although hypervisors represent a significant security concern to an environment because their compromise would expose any virtual systems hosted within them, the management plane is a better choice in this case because it controls multiple hypervisors. Encryption and object storage both represent lower-level security concerns.

Explanation:

The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) publishes a broad range of fire safety and design standards for many different types of facilities. Building Industry Consulting Services International (BICSI) issues certifications for data center cabling. The Uptime Institute publishes the most widely known and used standard for data center topologies and tiers. The International Data Center Authority (IDCA) offers the Infinity Paradigm, which takes a macro-level approach to data center design.

NEW QUESTION # 611

Which of the following is the concept of segregating information or processes, within the same system or application, for security reasons?

- A. Cell blocking
- B. Fencing
- C. Sandboxing
- D. Pooling

Answer: C

Explanation:

Sandboxing involves the segregation and isolation of information or processes from other information or processes within the same system or application, typically for security concerns.

Sandboxing is generally used for data isolation (for example, keeping different communities and populations of users isolated from others with similar data). In IT terminology, pooling typically means bringing together and consolidating resources or services, not segregating or separating them. Cell blocking and fencing are both erroneous terms.
