Google Cloud Digital Leader Sample Questions (Q104-Q109):

NEW QUESTION # 104

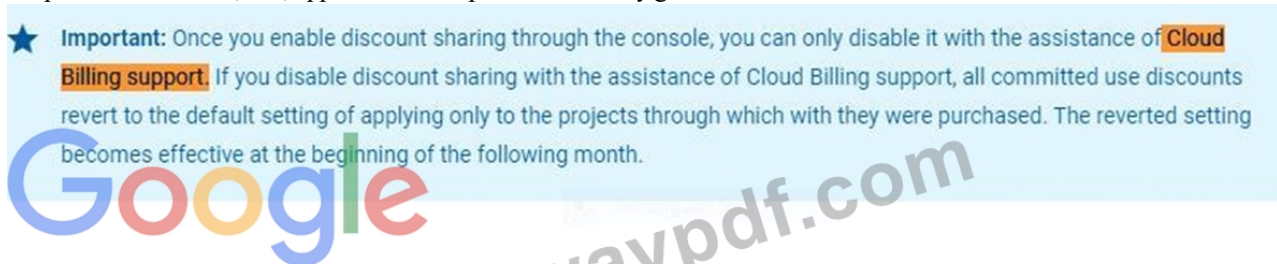

Your organization meant to purchase a 3-year Committed Use Discount, but accidentally purchased a 1-year Committed Use Discount instead. What should your organization do?

- A. Contact Trust and Safety.
- C Contact Cloud Billing Support.
- B. Contact Technical Support.
- C. Contact your financial institution.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Graphical user interface, text, application Description automatically generated

Combining reservations with commitments

A committed use discount provides a 1- or 3-year discounted price agreement, but it does not reserve capacity in a specific zone. A reservation ensures that capacity is held in a specific zone even if the reserved VMs are not running. By combining a reservation with a commitment, you get discounted, reserved resources.

NEW QUESTION # 106

An organization wants to create a new application in the cloud to replace an existing on-premises application. Which application modernization approach should the organization use?

- A. Invent in brownfield.
- B. Invent in greenfield.
- C. Move the application to the cloud, and then change it.
- D. Change their application, and then move it to the cloud.

Answer: A

Explanation:

This approach carries over as much custom components as possible from the source system and minimizes initial reengineering efforts.

NEW QUESTION # 107

A developer in your IT team is creating a bucket on Cloud Storage. He is receiving an error that the bucket name already exists. He has checked his project and the few other projects in the organization. The name seems to be entirely unique. What would be the issue?

- A. Bucket names are case insensitive- look for bucket names in your org that have a different capitalization.
- B. Previously deleted bucket names in the same project cannot be reused. There must have been an older bucket with the same name.
- C. Bucket names ignore any "." in the name. Look for similar bucket names that have a "." in it.
- D. Bucket names in Cloud storage have to be globally unique

Answer: D

Explanation:

Bucket names have to be unique across Google Cloud Platform [GCP], including other organizations and projects.

NEW QUESTION # 108

A Customer has their current SAP systems using Microsoft SQL Server as the Database. They are migrating to Google Cloud and also preparing to later migrate to the latest version of SAP. The entire IT team is being directed to focus on the migration to the new version of SAP. The new version of SAP does not use Microsoft SQL Server as the Database. Any but the most critical IT management tasks are being deprioritized. How should they migrate their current database to Google Cloud?

- A. Cloud SQL
- B. Bare Metal
- C. Spanner
- D. BigQuery

Answer: A

Explanation:

Cloud SQL supports SQL Server. Since the IT team's attention is being focused on other activities, they will have less time for existing admin tasks. It would be best to take a managed/hosted version.
